

U.S. Played For Sucker In Technology Exchange?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Detente has generated a steadily increasing number of U.S.-Soviet technology exchanges, prompting growing concern that Russia is shrewdly acquiring U.S. know-how to improve its military posture while giving little in return.

The situation is stirring a serious policy debate in Congress and among several government agencies. Many on both sides believe a new national policy on export controls is needed.

Critics contend many American companies, with approval of the administration, are selling computers, communications systems, precision ball-bearing machines and ship-building technology which have military application to the Soviets under what are supposed to be commercial agreements for civilian use.

Some officials charge the deals have advanced development of Russia's missile warhead accuracy by two to four years and its computer know-how by perhaps a decade. They say Russian missiles, tanks and military vehicles run on ball bearings based on American technology.

These critics say the Soviets may be soon competing in world markets with U.S. firms from which they purchased the technology.

America is getting very little Soviet technology in return, they say.

The technology-science cooperation agreement signed at the Moscow summit in May 1972 relaxed U.S. export regulations. Many American firms, in their efforts to create new markets in the East, have signed far-reaching agreements with the Soviets.

Administration officials believe a strong technology exchange program is necessary to further detente and to achieve a favorable balance of economic and political advantages. But some officials, noting the U.S.-USSR wheat deal, admit the Soviets are shrewd bargainers and they have alerted American companies to keep their guard up.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., terms it a dangerous situation. He said preliminary study by the Senate Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations, which he heads, indicates that Soviet experts are trying to acquire "significant technology... which could have a serious impact on U.S. defenses."

"When we start holding hearings, I think the country will be rather startled at what is happening," Jackson said. "Unless we do something about this, there are going to be some shocking technology transfers."

Malcolm R. Currie, director of defense research and engineering at the Pentagon, is waging a campaign to warn U.S. industry of the pitfalls.

"The Soviets have become critically aware that their great deficiency is not in scientific knowledge but rather in production technology," Currie said. "We therefore see what appears to be a carefully designed Soviet approach to acquire production technology," he said.

Especially disturbing to Currie and others are recent Soviet overtures to five U.S. aerospace firms: Lockheed, Boeing, McDonnell Douglas, General Electric and United Aircraft's Pratt &

Whitney Division. The Russians are seeking jumbo jet aircraft and engines.

What the Soviets really want to buy, the critics say, is the technology that would allow them to build their own production facilities, now sorely lacking in the USSR.

The Soviets know how to build big jets. But Pentagon experts say Soviet production techniques would not allow the Soviets to produce them efficiently enough to compete on the world market.

The Defense Department, which is considering using such giants as Boeing's 747 as military transports, fear the Russians would use technology obtained in any such deal to improve their military airlift capability.

Boeing and Lockheed have signed protocol agreements to explore possible civil aviation projects with Russia.

Boeing said the protocol was "limited to the exchange of scientific and technical information." But the Soviet news agency Tass reported the agreement could result eventually in an American-designed aircraft plant in Russia and in the development of new passenger aircraft and helicopters.

Another concern of Pentagon planners is the National Security Council's recent approval for a group of U.S. computer companies to install an air traffic control system in Russia comparable to that used by the Federal Aviation Administration. The U.S. team, headed by IBM, is competing with a French firm for the contract.

This would allow the Soviets to accommodate increased air transport and to compete with airlines of other nations for expanded international routes. It also would permit creation of the computerized military air traffic control system they now lack.

A leading congressional opponent of the sale of advanced computer systems to the Soviets or other eastern bloc nations is Rep. Ben B. Blackburn, R-Ga. He said American computers were sold to Russia as early as 1959, but that export restrictions limited the quality to systems available to the Russians elsewhere in the world.

But through the years, Blackburn said, American computer technology has funneled into Russia, either through direct sales or through other Communist-bloc nations.

Blackburn said the combination of U.S. and British computer technology has advanced development of the Soviets' multiple independently-targeted re-entry vehicles—MIRVs—from two to four years. This, he said, allowed them to take advantage of the SALT-I treaty to advance the Soviet strategic posture in a time span unanticipated in Washington.

Despite owning this technology, Blackburn said, the Russians have failed in an effort to create a manufacturing base for third-generation computers.

"Consequently, the Kremlin leaders are asking our electronic and computer firms to create a Soviet productive base in which to manufacture third generation and advanced scientific computer systems," he said.

President Holds Talks In Azores

LAJES, Azores (AP) — Pausing en route back to America from his Middle East mission, President Nixon met today with Portuguese President Antonio Spínola to discuss possible U.S. economic aid for Spínola's new government.

The two presidents also were talking about a new agreement extending the U.S. air base here. The present accord expires in August.

Nixon, who arrived here Tuesday for an overnight stay, drove from his quarters to the Portuguese Officers Club for the session with Spínola.

Nixon planned to depart for Washington about two hours after the meeting concluded.

Today's hour-long session was billed by White House aides as a "courtesy meeting," but Spínola's aides said the talks would involve Portugal's new international role since a military overthrow of the old rightist government April 25.

Several hundred persons greeted Nixon here and President Spínola unexpectedly flew in from Lisbon four hours early for Nixon's arrival.

Spínola told Nixon he was the first foreign head of state Spínola had met since taking over the Portuguese government.

Nixon flew here from Amman, Jordan, Tuesday evening after an eight-day journey that took him 14,700 miles to five Middle East nations in a bid to play a continuing peace-maker role between Arabs and Israelis. He was due in Washington this afternoon. A homecoming celebration was planned on the White House lawn.

Ziegler said Nixon now plans "to take a personal role with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger in the follow-up of the trip."

The President called a meeting of his Cabinet and of bipartisan congressional leaders for Thursday to report on his mission.

He also planned to begin intensive preparations for his Moscow summit that starts June 27 and summoned the National Security Council to a Thursday meeting to discuss those plans. Afterwards, Ziegler said Nixon tentatively plans to go to Florida to relax and concentrate on the Soviet summit preparations.

He said Nixon may leave directly from Florida on Tuesday for Europe and his first stop at a NATO meeting in Brussels before flying to Moscow.

Talking to reporters aboard Nixon's airplane on the 7½-hour flight from Jordan, Ziegler described Nixon's mood as "very good and excellent." He feels "the goal he set out for this trip was accomplished," Ziegler said, adding Nixon believes his trip "opened the door to peace in the Middle East and that the nations in the area now have an opportunity to walk through that door."

He added that Nixon made clear throughout his journey that "the United States is irreversibly committed to play a role in assisting in the negotiating process, recognizing the differences that exist and the fact that there is a long road ahead."

Nixon Claim Shaken

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's statements that he first learned of the Watergate cover-up March 21, 1973, have been shaken by evidence presented to the House Judiciary Committee.

A taped presidential conversation heard by the members Tuesday indicated to several of them that Nixon was aware at least four days earlier that White House aides might be involved in it.

It is not the four days that is significant in their view. They said the apparent discrepancy raises doubts about Nixon's Watergate explanations. He repeatedly has given March 21 as the date he first learned of efforts centered in the White House to contain the spreading scandal.

The committee heard an excerpt from a June 4, 1973, tape made while Nixon was listening to a number of tapes and commenting about them to aides Alexander M. Haig Jr. and Ronald L. Ziegler.

Members said Nixon's comments about a March 17 conversation he had with his former counsel, John W. Dean III, indicated he and Dean discussed the Watergate cover-up then. Members could not hear the tapes Nixon was listening to.

Stung by criticism of a new leak of a confidential committee memorandum, members were reluctant to discuss what they heard.

But May 21, in a press briefing, Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., had said the June 4 tape showed the March 17 meeting with Dean included "a discussion of the Watergate matter and the possible involvement of White House personnel and others."

"I'll stick by that statement," Rodino said Tuesday; other members said after hearing the tape they agreed with it.

Asked whether he now had doubts that Nixon first learned of the cover-up

March 21, Rep. Edward Mezvinsky, D-Iowa, said, "Yes."

Some members, however, were not so certain. Rep. Don Edwards, D-Calif., said "It's not open and shut." And Rep. Charles Wiggins, R-Calif., said that although Nixon got "an inkling" of the cover-up March 17, it was clear he did not get the full story until March 21.

The March 17 tape is one of 42 the committee subpoenaed April 19, but for which it got a White House-edited transcript instead. The transcript contains no reference to a discussion of Watergate.

Housing Decline Hasn't Bottomed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government statistics show that the housing industry's deepest decline apparently has not struck bottom.

For prospective buyers entering the busiest home-shopping season, statistics released Tuesday by the Commerce Department mean continued rising prices and fewer new houses to choose from.

For the nation's economy, it means the industry that the administration once expected to lead the way to a rally instead will be a drag on productivity and employment.

The figures showed construction starts on new housing units in May were 38 per cent below a year earlier. Building permits issued were 43 per cent below a year ago.

Commerce said housing starts, after adjustment for seasonal variations, fell in May to an annual rate of 1,450,000 units, a drop of more than 1 million since construction peaked at 2,509,000 units in September 1972. The worst previous drop since the government began keeping records after World War II was in 1966, when housing starts dipped by 850,000 units before bouncing back.

Building permit issuances for construction, meanwhile, dwindled to 1,055,000 units, a seven-year low.

Housing Secretary James T. Lynn called the figures disappointing, but said House consideration due Thursday for a housing and urban development bill offers some hope. Another version—which the administration dislikes—already has passed the Senate.

But housing economists were more discouraged, particularly by the dwindling building permits. The permits anticipate actual construction by an average of about seven months, which one economist said means there won't be any recovery this year.

Michael Sumicrast of the National Association of Home Builders predicted monthly housing starts will sink to 1.2 million before hitting bottom. Total starts probably will be 100,000 below earlier estimates, or 1.5 million for this year compared to the just over 2 million started last year.

"The big villain is inflation and the inflationary psychology," said Marshall Kaplan, an economist with the Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

City Ordinance Would Ban Junkers On Private Property

Legislation to remove junk cars from private property was presented to Circleville City Council Tuesday.

Written at the request of Second Ward Councilman John Jenkins, the ordinance corresponds with recently passed state legislation.

A junk car is defined in the ordinance as one three years or more old, extensively damaged, inoperable and with a market value of $100 or less. Held to a first reading, the ordinance is to be enforced by the Police Department.

Failure to comply with a written order from the chief of police to remove a junk car or have it placed under cover within 30 days is a minor misdemeanor punishable by a fine. However, each 30 days following the notification is considered a separate offense. The second offense is a misdemeanor of the fourth degree and each subsequent offense a misdemeanor of the third degree. The latter two are punishable by both fine and jail sentence.

The legislation was held to a first reading to permit council more time for study. It was the only ordinance presented Tuesday.

A brief discussion was held by council concerning an offer to sell the privately owned swimming pool adjacent to Ted Lewis Park to the city.

Council members David Crawford and David Goldschmidt both pointed out that much more must be considered than the initial purchase price, estimated between $135,000 and $150,000. Cost of operation of such a facility must also be kept in mind. It was suggested by councilman Ben Gordon that perhaps an operating levy voted by the taxpayers would be the way to finance purchase and operation of a municipal pool.

Other city problems briefly discussed or reported were: parking at the vacant lot at the intersection of Court and Franklin Streets; speed limit on the Walnut Creek Pike; the statutory budget; a meeting of all council to discuss Nicholas Drive Improvement Project and the summer street repair program; the bid opening scheduled this Friday for an aerial bucket truck for the city.

Present at council meeting were: Councilmen Jenkins, Crawford, Goldschmidt, Gordon, Tom Wells, Harold Hoffman and Dixie Watters, Council president Joe Bell, Clerk Robert Shadley; Mayor Frank Barnhill.

Every Voter On The Ballot In Tiny Florida Community

BEVERLY BEACH, Fla. (AP) — There's never a voter recognition problem during local elections in this tiny Atlantic Coast town. All 18 registered voters know each other, and they're all on the ballot.

"We just put everybody on the slip," says city clerk Marcella Leatherwood, whose husband, Granville, is mayor. She said those who get the most votes "turn out to be our mayor and city commissioners."

The mayor and five commissioners are elected annually in a nonpartisan vote. Mrs. Leatherwood says the system has worked without a hitch since the town of 80 residents was incorporated 19 years ago.

"We've had some close elections, even ties, but I never heard a nasty word or seen evidence of any hurt feelings," she says. "Folks just abide by the vote 'cause it's the democratic way."

Two years ago, two citizens were deadlocked for one commissioner post.

A special ballot was drawn and a second vote broke the tie.

Leatherwood, 58, was reelected mayor last month. The incumbent five commissioners also won.

All six elected posts are unsalaried, but Mrs. Leatherwood, 57, says there has been some talk of offering a stipend for her appointed job.

"There's so much red tape with the state and the federal revenue sharing," she says. "These bookkeeping duties would get the best of me if I didn't get help... Those boys in Tallahassee and Washington want five or six copies of everything."

Beverly Beach, about 20 miles north of Daytona Beach, has for years successfully fought off annexation proposals by neighboring Flagler Beach.

But the town may begin to expand if a proposed mobile home complex is annexed. It could increase the population greatly and force a change in the town's voting procedures.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued drifting slightly lower in light trading today as investors awaited some dramatic turn of events.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 1.96 at 828.30. Declines led advances more than 2-to-1 on the New York Stock Exchange.

"Prices are just steadily being eaten away," said John Doherty by Blyth Eastman Dillon. "Everyone is waiting for something dramatic."

Investors, keyed to interest rate developments at the moment, are looking toward Thursday and Friday for bank loan and rate figures which might bring a change in market psychology.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index was off .39 at 82.84. Instrument Systems was most active, off 1/4 at 1 1/8.

Livestock Farmer Caught In Pinch

VALLEY SPRINGS, S.D. (AP) — The last 10 months have been a nightmare of plummeting prices and soaring costs for Dwayne Bly and thousands of livestock feeders like him.

Bly, 31, a college-educated farmer and livestock feeder, is a partner with his mother in a feeder operation in southeastern South Dakota.

Since September, he has seen livestock prices dive nearly 40 per cent, while his costs have risen dramatically.

The rules of the feeder game, until a few months ago, have been: The feeder buys young cattle, fattens them, then sells them at a profit.

But Bly says that since the government imposed price ceilings on beef last year, the rules have evaporated like wisps of steam, taking any hope for profits and stability in the market with them.

"There's always been depressed times, but I don't think it's ever been this bad," Bly said. "The livestock business has its ups and downs, its cycles, like in 1963-64. But then our costs stayed stable."

"I don't think the costs have ever doubled like they have. We're in a double squeeze."

Bly says his fuel costs, approximately $7,500 last year, are already nearly $14,000 this year. He spent $65,000 in January and February for corn, twice what he spent in the same period in 1973.

Last October yearling steers cost feeders such as Bly $50 a hundredweight. That same steer, ready for sale Tuesday, was worth slightly more than $40 a hundredweight. The loss is $150 to $200 per head. Bly sells an average of 1,500 steers each year.

He said larger feeder operations compound the price losses. Small profit margins forced feeders to feed greater numbers of cattle to make the profit worth the effort.

"The margin had gotten so slim, down to $10 to $15 a head. So guys built up their herds. You eventually built up numbers or quit," said Bly.

"And now this hit. The guy who has done everything he possibly can to be more efficient is in the worst shape. The numbers are killing you."

Auditor Raps Firm, Employees

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Thirty employees and a firm which dealt with the City of Lancaster have been singled out in a report from state Auditor Joseph Ferguson.

Ferguson said Tuesday the employees acting under local ordinances, converted allowable sick leave into about $37,000 in money payments. That's not legal under state law, he said.

He said three other employees of the firm, which was not named, were overpaid by about $3,300 under a contract with the city.

NEW FIREMAN—Randy Arledge, 28, 360 Eva Drive, joined the Circleville Fire Department officially Tuesday. Arledge is a native of Pickaway County and a graduate of Logan Elm High School. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles V. Arledge, 156 Pontious Lane and is married to the former Candace Dawson. Fire Chief Bernard Wolfe stated that with the appointment of Arledge, two of the three shifts now have six men but the shift to which the new man was appointed is currently operating short two men who are hospitalized. Another man will fill the sixth position on the third shift effective July 1.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market continued drifting slightly lower in light trading today as investors awaited some dramatic turn of events.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 1.96 at 828.30. Declines led advances more than 2-to-1 on the New York Stock Exchange.

"Prices are just steadily being eaten away," said John Doherty by Blyth Eastman Dillon. "Everyone is waiting for something dramatic."

Investors, keyed to interest rate developments at the moment, are looking toward Thursday and Friday for bank loan and rate figures which might bring a change in market psychology.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index was off .39 at 82.84. Instrument Systems was most active, off 1/4 at 1 1/8.

Density Invites Disaster

Population density is accompanied by more than the obvious sustenance and comfort demands, which occasionally become difficult to fulfill in the most affluent societies. Crowded communities also become targets for major natural disasters, especially if they are located in geographic areas where severe storms, floods or other natural disasters traditionally occur.

Dr. Robert H. Simpson, former director of the National Hurricane Center, made some pointed observations concerning growing population densities in disaster-prone areas of the United States. The occasion was the official opening of the hurricane season in the U.S. on June 1.

Because of the rapid growth of populations in coastal areas, Simpson said a hurricane conceivably could destroy as many as 50,000 lives before the end of this century. The storm expert advocates stricter building codes for storm-prone areas to offer as much protection as possible against hurricane damage.

Potential major calamities from natural disasters are ever present. Coastal areas are hit more often by severe wind and rain storms, including hurricanes, than are inland areas. And the U.S. has regions subject to other kinds of natural disasters such as earthquakes and tornadoes.

Few places are completely safe from all natural disasters. Precautions against the range of possibilities are everyone's business, but those who live in sections where history tends to repeat have special reasons to take care.

Almost Makes You Wonder

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

WITH THE PRESIDENT — The forgotten man of the Egyptian phase of the Middle Eastern trip was Henry Kissinger. He had put the whole historic deal together, but both Presidents Nixon and Sadat gave him the back of their necks. All the banners, placards and the shout of millions were for Nixon and his host. In fact, there was not a single mention of the master negotiator and Nobel Peace laureate to be found during that portion of the trip.

The coolness was particularly evident on the train trip from Cairo to Alexandria. Kissinger spent almost the entire three and a half hour trip seated in a corner of the open-sided ceremonial car that was part of the gala air-conditioned train. He seldom spoke to Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmy, who was seated next to him.

Every time the train slowed down at a city or village, Nixon and Sadat emerged from the car ahead and showed themselves to the multitudes. Kissinger took no bows nor was he asked. Everybody else except the Secret Service seemed to enjoy that particular trip.

It was a circus, and a rare chance for countless tens of thousands along the way to see the two Presidents live and in the flesh under conditions that could hardly be duplicated in almost any other place. There were times when it appeared that the blizzards of hands that reached up toward Nixon threatened to pull him over the slim rail and plummet him to the tracks.

There was no way for security agents to stand in front of Nixon as the breezy observation car crept through places with names like Shoubra, Benha, Tanta, Kafre Zayat, Damanhurt and Kair el Dawar, and sped across sunbaked countryside and green farms being worked as they must have been in biblical times.

Shortly after the trip began and the President started bouncing back and forth from his private car to the exposed car, a walkie-talkie summoned Dr. William Lukash, the White House physician on this trip. He hurriedly picked up his medicine case, which includes equipment for emergency surgery, and hurried through three cars to the open-air car — just in case anybody threw a rock or worse as the President of the United States toiled past.

There were other protective measures. The right of way had been tested for mines by a slightly earlier train, the one that carried most of the reporters and camera people. Several helicopters chattered overhead during the entire route.

The highway that runs parallel to the tracks most of the way, enabled a number of cars and trucks to keep apace with the decorated train. It was an interesting entourage that included

White House limousines, two ambulances flying the flag of the Red Crescent (the Red Cross of the Arab world) and a big gray Cadillac hearse.

As it turned out, the only casualty of the train excursion was a highly imaginative Egyptian boy, mounted on a fast horse and carrying the American and Jordanian flags. He gallantly raced the train a furlong or two as it pounded through one of the towns. But, alas, the horse tripped and threw the gallant rider to the road. The horse, flags still attached to him, got up and continued its charge. The boy lay there in the road as the train chuffed away.

Kissinger, the prime architect of the most difficult cease-fire and troop disentanglements in recent history, sat slumped in his limousine during the triumphant parade through the immense multitudes that stretched from Alexandria's Sidi Gaber railway terminal to Ras-el-Tin Palace, once a pleasure dome of Egypt's royal family. The huge yellow palace, which faces the Mediterranean, was the Nixons' home-away-from-home during their Alexandria stop. It is quite likely that it was the first time that cottage cheese and ketchup had been served in Ras-el-Tin Palace.

If possible, the Alexandria reception was more enthusiastic than the one in Cairo, which was described as the biggest Egyptian emotional binge since Nasser's funeral.

It was equally well-staged. The miles of smiles were again rampant. The same signs fluttered in the streets, as if they were the props of a road company. Most of them expressed confidence in Nixon and asked God to bless him.

The salutations and the misspellings of Nixon's name (Nexon, Nickson) were the same as he saw in Cairo. The only change in Alexandria was that there were a few more "Remember the Palestinians" banners.

But nary a Kissinger pennant. Without him, President Nixon would have been in Washington dodging subpenas and Sadat would have spent the day being dandled on Brezhnev's knee.

Business World

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — So extreme is the current economic scene that the meanings of trusted old words are being strained. Some may well be abandoned for the time being in favor of more descriptive terms, such as:

—The shock market, otherwise known as the stock market. For those seeking big capital gains it has been just one shock after another. Some investors now are so punchy they fear an advance, convinced it is only the prelude to a bigger decline.

—The crime rate, still known popularly as the prime rate, or the borrowing charge that banks assess their best corporate customers. It is now around 11.5 per cent, and many borrowers are convinced it is plain robbery.

Many consumers feel the same way, noting the tendency of businesses to pass on their higher costs in the form of higher prices. In 1947 the prime rate was only 1.75 per cent, or roughly one-sixth what it is now.

Ironically, the justification offered for high interest rates is that they are anti-inflationary. The Federal Reserve Board, for example, insists that a tight-money, high-interest rate policy is needed to curb inflation.

—Ravings, sometimes known as savings. The latter term still might be serviceable if money left in the bank really grew. But it seldom does anymore. It can't grow, in fact, if the rate of inflation exceeds the interest rate.

In the 12 months to April, consumer prices rose 10.2 per cent, far exceeding the highest rates that savings institutions are allowed to pay. The highest permissible rate on savings accounts is less than 8 per cent, compounding included.

The net result is a loss of buying power, whereas the word "saving" suggests that something is maintained or even added to.

—The fudge-it, also called the budget. Most families have what they call a budget to help them allocate funds, to aid them in using their money wisely, to help prevent waste. But then they fudge.

An increasingly common technique for living on a busted budget is to borrow money in order to meet bills. The appearance of a budget remains, but its guidelines are ignored, often out of necessity. The budget is fudged.

Pass through — remember the term; it has become the popular justification for price increases. The raw material supplier passes through to the manufacturer who passes through to the wholesaler ...

On through the system the increase moves, passed like a bucket of water from one to another until it reaches you. And that's where the bucket stops; you're left holding it.

Revco Announces Optical Takeover

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Revco D.S. Inc. announced plans Monday to take over ownership of optical outlets in its drug stores and expand the outlets to all its locations.

Revco will acquire Master Craft Optics of Washington, Pa., and Optical Discount Centers which operate in some Revco stores, Revco President Sidney Dworin said.

Revco will establish Revco Optical Enterprises to handle and expand all phases of optical retailing, Dworin said.

Revco is a Cleveland-based discount drug center chain.

Cloture Action Seen On Tax Cut Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said today he will probably file a cloture petition soon in an effort to force Senate action on a major tax cut and tax reform proposal.

Mansfield's action would mean a Thursday test of strength in the move to attach the tax measure to a bill raising the legal limit on the national debt.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The director of Ohio's Vietnam Veterans Bonus program said today procedural adjustments will increase daily mailing of application acknowledgements.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My wife has cancer. I have heard about psychic surgery in the Philippines. Do you think that we, in desperation, should go there?

Mr. G.K., Ill.

Dear Mr. K.:

Desperation is the driving force that sends people scurrying in all directions and eventually into the hands of quacks.

It is understandable that desperation makes people seek and find those who will exploit their emotional pains and exhaust their finances.

Many gullible Americans have flown to Manila for the "psychic surgery" you refer to.

So vast has this enterprise become that hundreds of people have been flown from the west coast to the "healers" in the Philippines.

When a cure for cancer or any disease is firmly established scientifically it will be available to hospitals and doctors everywhere.

I am 45-years-old and know that I am beginning my change of life. I notice excessive bleeding during my menstrual periods that was never there before. Should I be concerned about this?

Mrs. E.N., Ga.

Dear Mrs. N.:

You should be concerned only to determine the exact cause of the excessive bleeding.

You should not, however, live in terror that this change represents a serious threat to your health.

There are many simple reasons which can be readily corrected. Small benign (nonmalignant) tumors of the cervix and fibroid tumors of the uterus can produce excessive bleeding.

A complete gynecological examination, including the smear test, will provide the assurance you need.

A general rule of safety is that all unusual vaginal bleeding should be traced to its cause and treated early to avoid complicating problems.

U.S. May Regain Grain Standing

WASHINGTON (AP) — New government figures on world grain supplies show the United States may rapidly gain back some of its standing among countries holding exportable reserves of wheat.

A similar assessment can be made for feed grains such as corn, oats, barley and sorghum, although figures for those commodities have traditionally shown an overwhelming advantage for U.S. reserves.

Looking ahead to June 30, 1975 — when this year's wheat crop will have gone to market — the Agriculture Department said Monday that total wheat stocks held by the United States and its "major competitors" of Canada, Australia and Argentina will be 32.5 million metric tons.

Of that amount a year from now, some 12.2 million tons will be held by U.S. farmers and the grain trade and 20.3 million by the other three countries or a ration of about 5 to 3 in favor of the foreign suppliers.

That represents a boost, if the mid-1975 projections are correct, from a 10 to 3 advantage now held by Canada, Australia and Argentina. Now, according to USDA figures, those countries control about 19.4 million metric tons of wheat in their June 30 reserves, compared with 5.9 million held by U.S. interests.

The big skid, of course, began two years ago when the Soviet Union and many other foreign buyers started making an unprecedented run on U.S. grain reserves to build up their own depleted stocks.

On June 30, 1972, the figures showed, it was almost a 1-to-1 situation with Canada, Australia and Argentina holding 25.8 million metric tons of wheat against 23.5 million by the United States.

Obviously, as the analysis indicated, all concerned have seen their stockpiles decline but not as much in proportion to those in the United States, the largest single reservoir of exportable grain in the world.

For feed grain, only "selected" countries were used to illustrate relative positions, and those included the three U.S. wheat competitors plus South Africa and Thailand which are important exporters of corn.

Besides being the largest feed producer — forecast at 213.8 million metric tons this year for the four crops — the United States has an overwhelming advantage in maintaining reserves.

By mid-1975, the USDA report showed, the total stockpile held by the six countries will be 103.2 million metric tons. Although the report said the estimate depends on U.S. corn output matching department forecasts this year, it also showed American farmers and traders would hold 74.8 million tons of the total a year from now.

Red Cross Feels Pinch On Blood

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The lack of volunteer donors has reduced Red Cross blood supplies this summer, but a commercial center here that pays $10 per pint for blood reports it has all it needs.

Naomi Towers, administrative director of the Central Ohio Red Cross, said the agency is falling behind by about 1,000 pints of whole blood a month due to a "summer slump" in donations.

Pete Ratcliffe, supervisor of Blood Alliance, Inc., a commercial blood bank here, said "we have no slump at all in supply, although we feel a certain slowdown in volunteers during the summer since we're located near Ohio State (University)."

Ratcliffe said Blood Alliance pays $10 per pint "or a year's free coverage of blood supply insurance to donors and their families."

The Central Ohio Red Cross Center borrowed 300 pints of blood from Red Cross centers in neighboring states to keep even with the supply, according to Mrs. Towers.

She said the Red Cross borrows blood from "anywhere there's another Red Cross bank to borrow it from, but we never buy blood from commercial banks."

Density Invites Disaster

Population density is accompanied by more than the obvious sustenance and comfort demands, which occasionally become difficult to fulfill in the most affluent societies. Crowded communities also become targets for major natural disasters, especially if they are located in geographic areas where severe storms, floods or other natural disasters traditionally occur.

Dr. Robert H. Simpson, former director of the National Hurricane Center, made some pointed observations concerning growing population densities in disaster-prone areas of the United States. The occasion was the official opening of the hurricane season in the U.S. on June 1.

Because of the rapid growth of populations in coastal areas, Simpson said a hurricane conceivably could destroy as many as 50,000 lives before the end of this century. The storm expert advocates stricter building codes for storm-prone areas to offer as much protection as possible against hurricane damage.

Potential major calamities from natural disasters are ever present. Coastal areas are hit more often by severe wind and rain storms, including hurricanes, than are inland areas. And the U.S. has regions subject to other kinds of natural disasters such as earthquakes and tornadoes.

Few places are completely safe from all natural disasters. Precautions against the range of possibilities are everyone's business, but those who live in sections where history tends to repeat have special reasons to take care.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

My wife has cancer. I have heard about psychic surgery in the Philippines. Do you think that we, in desperation, should go there?

Mr. G.K., Ill.

Dear Mr. K.:

Desperation is the driving force that sends people scurrying in all directions and eventually into the hands of quacks.

It is understandable that desperation makes people seek and find those who will exploit their emotional pains and exhaust their finances.

Many gullible Americans have flown to Manila for the "psychic surgery" you refer to.

So vast has this enterprise become that hundreds of people have been flown from the west coast to the "healers" in the Philippines.

When a cure for cancer or any disease is firmly established scientifically it will be available to hospitals and doctors everywhere.

I am 45-years-old and know that I am beginning my change of life. I notice excessive bleeding during my menstrual periods that was never there before. Should I be concerned about this?

Mrs. E.N., Ga.

Dear Mrs. N.:

You should be concerned only to determine the exact cause of the excessive bleeding.

You should not, however, live in terror that this change represents a serious threat to your health.

There are many simple reasons which can be readily corrected. Small benign (nonmalignant) tumors of the cervix and fibroid tumors of the uterus can produce excessive bleeding.

A complete gynecological examination, including the smear test, will provide the assurance you need.

A general rule of safety is that all unusual vaginal bleeding should be traced to its cause and treated early to avoid complicating problems.

Almost Makes You Wonder

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

WITH THE PRESIDENT — The forgotten man of the Egyptian phase of the Middle Eastern trip was Henry Kissinger. He had put the whole historic deal together, but both Presidents Nixon and Sadat gave him the back of their necks. All the banners, placards and the shout of millions were for Nixon and his host. In fact, there was not a single mention of the master negotiator and Nobel Peace laureate to be found during that portion of the trip.

The coolness was particularly evident on the train trip from Cairo to Alexandria. Kissinger spent almost the entire three and a half hour trip seated in a corner of the open-sided ceremonial car that was part of the gala air-conditioned train. He seldom spoke to Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmy, who was seated next to him.

Every time the train slowed down at a city or village, Nixon and Sadat emerged from the car ahead and showed themselves to the multitudes. Kissinger took no bows nor was he asked. Everybody else except the Secret Service seemed to enjoy that particular trip.

It was a circus, and a rare chance for countless tens of thousands along the way to see the two Presidents live and in the flesh under conditions that could hardly be duplicated in almost any other place. There were times when it appeared that the blizzards of hands that reached up toward Nixon threatened to pull him over the slim rail and plummet him to the tracks.

There was no way for security agents to stand in front of Nixon as the breezy observation car crept through places with names like Shoubra, Benha, Tanta, Kafre Zayat, Damanhur and Kair el Dawar, and sped across sunbaked countryside and green farms being worked as they must have been in biblical times.

Shortly after the trip began and the President started bouncing back and forth from his private car to the exposed car, a walkie-talkie summoned Dr. William Lukash, the White House physician on this trip. He hurriedly picked up his medicine case, which includes equipment for emergency surgery, and hurried through three cars to the open-air car — just in case anybody threw a rock or worse as the President of the United States toiled past.

There were other protective measures. The right of way had been tested for mines by a slightly earlier train, the one that carried most of the reporters and camera people. Several helicopters chattered overhead during the entire route.

The highway that runs parallel to the tracks most of the way, enabled a number of cars and trucks to keep pace with the decorated train. It was an interesting entourage that included

White House limousines, two ambulances flying the flag of the Red Crescent (the Red Cross of the Arab world) and a big gray Cadillac hearse.

As it turned out, the only casualty of the train excursion was a highly imaginative Egyptian boy, mounted on a fast horse and carrying the American and Jordanian flags. He gallantly raced the train a furlong or two as it pounded through one of the towns. But, alas, the horse tripped and threw the gallant rider to the road. The horse, flags still attached to him, got up and continued its charge. The boy lay there in the road as the train chuffed away.

Kissinger, the prime architect of the most difficult cease-fire and troop disentanglements in recent history, sat slumped in his limousine during the triumphant parade through the immense multitudes that stretched from Alexandria's Sidi Gaber railway terminal to Ras-el-Tin Palace, once a pleasure dome of Egypt's royal family. The huge yellow palace, which faces the Mediterranean, was the Nixons' home-away-from-home during their Alexandria stop. It is quite likely that it was the first time that cottage cheese and ketchup had been served in Ras-el-Tin Palace.

If possible, the Alexandria reception was more enthusiastic than the one in Cairo, which was described as the biggest Egyptian emotional binge since Nasser's funeral.

It was equally well-staged. The miles of smiles were again rampant. The same signs fluttered in the streets, as if they were the props of a road company. Most of them expressed confidence in Nixon and asked God to bless him.

The salutations and the misspellings of Nixon's name (Nexon, Nickson) were the same as he saw in Cairo. The only change in Alexandria was that there were a few more "Remember the Palestinians" banners.

But nary a Kissinger pennant. Without him, President Nixon would have been in Washington dodging subpenas and Sadat would have spent the day being dandled on Brezhnev's knee.

Business World

By JOHN CUNNEIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — So extreme is the current economic scene that the meanings of trusted old words are being strained. Some may well be abandoned for the time being in favor of more descriptive terms, such as:

—The shock market, otherwise known as the stock market. For those seeking big capital gains it has been just one shock after another. Some investors now are so punchy they fear an advance, convinced it is only the prelude to a bigger decline.

—The crime rate, still known popularly as the prime rate, or the borrowing charge that banks assess their best corporate customers. It is now around 11.5 per cent, and many borrowers are convinced it is plain robbery.

Many consumers feel the same way, noting the tendency of businesses to pass on their higher costs in the form of higher prices. In 1947 the prime rate was only 1.75 per cent, or roughly one-sixth what it is now.

Ironically, the justification offered for high interest rates is that they are anti-inflationary. The Federal Reserve Board, for example, insists that a tight-money, high-interest rate policy is needed to curb inflation.

—Ravings, sometimes known as savings. The latter term still might be serviceable if money left in the bank really grew. But it seldom does anymore. It can't grow, in fact, if the rate of inflation exceeds the interest rate.

In the 12 months to April, consumer prices rose 10.2 per cent, far exceeding the highest rates that savings institutions are allowed to pay. The highest permissible rate on savings accounts is less than 8 per cent, compounding included.

The net result is a loss of buying power, whereas the word "saving" suggests that something is maintained or even added to.

—The fudge-it, also called the budget. Most families have what they call a budget to help them allocate funds, to aid them in using their money wisely, to help prevent waste. But then they fudge.

An increasingly common technique for living on a busted budget is to borrow money in order to meet bills. The appearance of a budget remains, but its guidelines are ignored, often out of necessity. The budget is fudged.

Pass through — remember the term; it has become the popular justification for price increases. The raw material supplier passes through to the manufacturer who passes through to the wholesaler ...

On through the system the increase moves, passed like a bucket of water from one to another until it reaches you. And that's where the bucket stops; you're left holding it.

Revco Announces Optical Takeover

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Revco D.S. Inc. announced plans Monday to take over ownership of optical outlets in its drug stores and expand the outlets to all its locations.

Revco will acquire Master Craft Optics of Washington, Pa., and Optical Discount Centers which operate in some Revco stores, Revco President Sidney Dworkin said.

Revco will establish Revco Optical Enterprises to handle and expand all phases of optical retailing, Dworkin said.

Cloture Action Seen On Tax Cut Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said today he will probably file a cloture petition soon in an effort to force Senate action on a major tax cut and tax reform proposal.

Mansfield's action would mean a Thursday test of strength in the move to attach the tax measure to a bill raising the legal limit on the national debt.

U.S. May Regain Grain Standing

WASHINGTON (AP) — New government figures on world grain supplies show the United States may rapidly gain back some of its standing among countries holding exportable reserves of wheat.

A similar assessment can be made for feed grains such as corn, oats, barley and sorghum, although figures for those commodities have traditionally shown an overwhelming advantage for U.S. reserves.

Looking ahead to June 30, 1975 — when this year's wheat crop will have gone to market — the Agriculture Department said Monday that total wheat stocks held by the United States and its "major competitors" of Canada, Australia and Argentina will be 32.5 million metric tons.

Of that amount a year from now, some 12.2 million tons will be held by U.S. farmers and the grain trade and 20.3 million by the other three countries or a ration of about 5 to 3 in favor of the foreign suppliers.

That represents a boost, if the mid-1975 projections are correct, from a 10 to 3 advantage now held by Canada, Australia and Argentina. Now, according to USDA figures, those countries control about 19.4 million metric tons of wheat in their June 30 reserves, compared with 5.9 million held by U.S. interests.

The big skid, of course, began two years ago when the Soviet Union and many other foreign buyers started making an unprecedented run on U.S. grain reserves to build up their own depleted stocks.

On June 30, 1972, the figures showed, it was almost a 1-to-1 situation with Canada, Australia and Argentina holding 25.8 million metric tons of wheat against 23.5 million by the United States.

Obviously, as the analysis indicated, all concerned have seen their stockpiles decline but not as much in proportion to those in the United States, the largest single reservoir of exportable grain in the world.

For feed grain, only "selected" countries were used to illustrate relative positions, and those included the three U.S. wheat competitors plus South Africa and Thailand which are important exporters of corn.

Besides being the largest feed producer — forecast at 213.8 million metric tons this year for the four crops — the United States has an overwhelming advantage in maintaining reserves.

By mid-1975, the USDA report showed, the total stockpile held by the six countries will be 103.2 million metric tons. Although the report said the estimate depends on U.S. corn output matching department forecasts this year, it also showed American farmers and traders would hold 74.8 million tons of the total a year from now.

Red Cross Feels Pinch On Blood

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The lack of volunteer donors has reduced Red Cross blood supplies this summer, but a commercial center here that pays $10 per pint for blood reports it has all it needs.

Naomi Towers, administrative director of the Central Ohio Red Cross, said the agency is falling behind by about 1,000 pints of whole blood a month due to a "summer slump" in donations.

Pete Ratcliffe, supervisor of Blood Alliance, Inc., a commercial blood bank here, said "we have no slump at all in supply, although we feel a certain slowdown in volunteers during the summer since we're located near Ohio State (University)."

Ratcliffe said Blood Alliance pays $10 per pint "or a year's free coverage of blood supply insurance to donors and their families."

The Central Ohio Red Cross Center borrowed 300 pints of blood from Red Cross centers in neighboring states to keep even with the supply, according to Mrs. Towers.

She said the Red Cross borrows blood from "anywhere there's another Red Cross bank to borrow it from, but we never buy blood from commercial banks."

Discrimination Rules Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare announced today controversial rules prohibiting sex discrimination in the nation's schools, from kindergarten through college.

Authorized by a two-year-old federal law, the proposed regulations are designed to assure equal treatment for females in admissions, athletics, housing, financial assistance, extracurricular activities and employment.

They would require coeducational physical education classes and outlaw different dormitory curfews for girls, as well as most single-sex scholarships.

Skirting two of the most sensitive issues, however, HEW said the rules would not jeopardize major, revenue-producing college sports such as football and would not attempt to deal with the problem of sexism in textbooks.

Rhodes Poster Brings Trouble

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said Monday he will turn over to the attorney general within the next week results of his hearing on the distribution of flyers advertising posters purporting to show a nude James A. Rhodes streaking across the statehouse lawn.

Lana Greenbaum, 24, told Brown during a brief hearing she got the idea for the posters after seeing one of President Nixon holding a "Watergate" towel in front of him.

Miss Greenbaum, who took the fifth amendment and wouldn't tell Brown where she worked or who the "underground printer" was that did the Rhodes' flyers, said she decided on the idea as a business venture rather than a political gimmick.

No posters ever were sold, she said. She said she and several friends, whom she wouldn't name, put out about 200 of the flyers before she decided the idea was in bad taste and dropped it.

Miss Greenbaum said a picture of a nude man with a picture of the head of the former governor was superimposed on a photograph of the statehouse.

The man with the photo of Rhodes' head was covering himself with a copy of Life Magazine headlining an inside article, "The Governor and the Mobster."

The flyers did not carry the name and address of the sender, violating Ohio's law regarding campaign materials.

Miss Greenbaum's attorney, Lewis Dye, said he had seen campaign material for Rhodes, who is seeking another term as governor, that violates the same law.

"Is this what you mean?" asked Brown, holding up a bumper sticker that listed only the name "Rhodes" in large letters. It did not bear the name or address of the sender.

"That is one of them," Dye said. Brown said that sticker and others that came to his attention also would be investigated.

Assistant Secretary of State James Marsh, who questioned Miss Greenbaum, noted that candidates themselves could put out such material not bearing a name and address.

Dye later told newsmen he didn't think "this situation deserves the kind of attention it is receiving. It would indicate there is some political motivation here."

Brown is a Republican candidate for re-election on the same ticket with Rhodes. The attorney general, William J. Brown, is a Democrat.

"I felt sorry for the little girl," the secretary of state said later, "but I have to do my job." He said he would turn his findings over to the attorney general when the transcript is complete.

Defense Chief Against Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger apparently has some reservations about the new U.S. agreement to help Egypt build nuclear power plants.

Asked at a Monday news conference whether he would have recommended such aid to Egypt, Schlesinger said, "I think that I would have pointed out the advantages or the disadvantages of such a course of action."

Some Pentagon officials agreed with a reporter's impression that the defense secretary probably leans more against the idea than toward it. "I think he would have put the cons before the pros," one official said.

Schlesinger said, "We must accept the fact that normalization will imply that the various kinds of agreements into which the United States has regularly entered with a large number of governments ... would likely be available" to Egypt or Israel.

Although he included Israel in this, it appeared Schlesinger had Egypt chiefly in mind because he referred to "normalization" of relations. The United States has recently restored normal diplomatic relations with Egypt after a seven-year break. U.S. relations with Israel never have been ruptured.

Critics in Congress questioned whether President Nixon's promise to supply nuclear materials and advice to Egypt for peaceful purposes might open the way to Egypt's developing nuclear weapons. No such criticism has been voiced against the similar U.S. commitment to Israel, which already has two nuclear reactors. Some experts believe the Israelis could build atomic weapons now, if they wished. Schlesinger, a former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, told newsmen the U.S. aid in developing peaceful nuclear power plants "is not wholly without risk" in enhancing the potential for atomic weapons.

However, Schlesinger said, "I think that is a relatively slight risk, given the kinds of safeguard agreements that have been and will continue to be written by the United States."

Thirty-four per cent of the nation's timber lies within the national forests, National Geographic says.

GOP Solon Sees Perk Doing Well

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP) — The chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign says he believes Mayor Ralph J. Perk of Cleveland can recapture the U.S. Senate seat now held by Sen. Howard M. Metzenbaum from the Democrats.

"Obviously the situation is complicated by the fact that William Saxbe left and the incumbent is a Democrat," said Sen. William Brock of Tennessee on a recent trip to Burlington.

"However, we have a first-rate candidate in Perk. I think he can run as strong a race as anyone."

Perk faces former astronaut John Glenn, a Democrat, in the November general election in Ohio. Glenn defeated Metzenbaum last month in the Democratic fight for the party's nomination to a full six-year term.

Gov. John J. Gilligan named Metzenbaum to fill the unexpired term of Saxbe, who left the Senate to become attorney general.

Brock heads a committee that will raise money, plan strategy and campaign for Republicans in this year's Senate elections.

The junior senator from Tennessee said two things hurt Metzenbaum in the May primary.

"I think the tax issue killed Metzenbaum," he said. "And the rather idiotic statement that Glenn never worked hurt him."

Brock referred to the report that Metzenbaum, a Cleveland millionaire, paid no federal income taxes in 1969 and that his statement about Glenn gave the space hero a chance to reply that he had devoted most of his life to the military and to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Even though voters have been rejecting established politicians and electing new faces, Brock says he does not believe two-term Mayor Perk will be affected.

"Even though Perk has been in politics, he has been identified as a completely honest man," Brock said. "He has been frank to the point of his own political disadvantage, and the voters appreciate a man who says what he thinks."

Amish Eye Road Emblem Regulation

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)— "We'll obey as long as we're not conflicted."

That is the answer of Joseph D. Troyer as to whether he and some of his fellow Amish will resist the soon-to-be Ohio law that would require red triangular emblems on the rear of their horse-drawn buggies.

To the Amish, to be "conflicted" is the equivalent of the persecution their faith teaches them will be their lot for their insistence on following "the old ways," shunning the worldliness they see in the communities surrounding their settlements.

Troyer is one of eight bishops of the Swartzentruber Congregation of 200, the oldest of the Old Order Amish in Wayne and Holmes counties.

The persecution the Swartzentruber Amish expect is being failed for refusing to adopt the bright red triangles.

The emblem-bearing legislation has passed both houses of the Ohio Legislature and Gov. John J. Gilligan has said he will sign it, making it effective next Jan. 1.

Legislators say the measure was passed only for the safety of the Amish and the protection of motorists in Amish areas.

But the red aluminum reflectorized emblem, measuring 12 inches on each of three sides, is an offense to the Amish because it is not "plain."

Defense Chief Against Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger apparently has some reservations about the new U.S. agreement to help Egypt build nuclear power plants.

Asked at a Monday news conference whether he would have recommended such aid to Egypt, Schlesinger said, "I think that I would have pointed out the advantages or the disadvantages of such a course of action."

Some Pentagon officials agreed with a reporter's impression that the defense secretary probably leans more against the idea than toward it. "I think he would have put the cons before the pros," one official said.

Schlesinger said, "We must accept the fact that normalization will imply that the various kinds of agreements into which the United States has regularly entered with a large number of governments ... would likely be available" to Egypt or Israel.

Although he included Israel in this, it appeared Schlesinger had Egypt chiefly in mind because he referred to "normalization" of relations. The United States has recently restored normal diplomatic relations with Egypt after a seven-year break. U.S. relations with Israel never have been ruptured.

Critics in Congress questioned whether President Nixon's promise to supply nuclear materials and advice to Egypt for peaceful purposes might open the way to Egypt's developing nuclear weapons. No such criticism has been voiced against the similar U.S. commitment to Israel, which already has two nuclear reactors. Some experts believe the Israelis could build atomic weapons now, if they wished.

Schlesinger, a former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, told newsmen the U.S. aid in developing peaceful nuclear power plants "is not wholly without risk" in enhancing the potential for atomic weapons.

However, Schlesinger said, "I think that is a relatively slight risk, given the kinds of safeguard agreements that have been and will continue to be written by the United States."

Thirty-four per cent of the nation's timber lies within the national forests, National Geographic says.

GOP Solon Sees Perk Doing Well

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP) — The chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign says he believes Mayor Ralph J. Perk of Cleveland can recapture the U.S. Senate seat now held by Sen. Howard M. Metzenbaum from the Democrats.

"Obviously the situation is complicated by the fact that William Saxbe left and the incumbent is a Democrat," said Sen. William Brock of Tennessee on a recent trip to Burlington.

"However, we have a first-rate candidate in Perk. I think he can run as strong a race as anyone."

Perk faces former astronaut John Glenn, a Democrat, in the November general election in Ohio. Glenn defeated Metzenbaum last month in the Democratic fight for the party's nomination to a full six-year term.

Gov. John J. Gilligan named Metzenbaum to fill the unexpired term of Saxbe, who left the Senate to become attorney general.

Brock heads a committee that will raise money, plan strategy and campaign for Republicans in this year's Senate elections.

The junior senator from Tennessee said two things hurt Metzenbaum in the May primary.

"I think the tax issue killed Metzenbaum," he said. "And the rather idiotic statement that Glenn never worked hurt him."

Brock referred to the report that Metzenbaum, a Cleveland millionaire, paid no federal income taxes in 1969 and that his statement about Glenn gave the space hero a chance to reply that he had devoted most of his life to the military and to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Even though voters have been rejecting established politicians and electing new faces, Brock says he does not believe two-term Mayor Perk will be affected.

"Even though Perk has been in politics, he has been identified as a completely honest man," Brock said. "He has been frank to the point of his own political disadvantage, and the voters appreciate a man who says what he thinks."

Man Loses Court Bid For Retrial

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Arthur Ben Lewis Jr. of Columbus, who was convicted of murder seven years ago, has lost another bid for a new trial.

The U.S. Supreme Court in Washington ruled Monday that police did not violate Lewis's constitutional rights by seizing his car without a search warrant for evidence that contributed to his conviction.

It was Lewis' second appeal to the top court. Earlier he lost an appeal on the procedures used in his trial.

Lewis, serving a life sentence in the London Correctional Institution, was convicted of the July, 1967, murder of Paul Radcliffe, a Columbus accountant who had been examining books of a firm operated by Lewis and which Lewis was attempting to sell.

In the latest appeal, the Supreme Court reversed lower court rulings and found that paint samplings taken from Lewis' auto after the murder were not a violation of constitutional guarantees against illegal search and seizure.

The evidence showed that paint scrapings from the victim's car were embedded in Lewis' auto.

Noting that the evidence came from the car's exterior surface, the Supreme Court said, "We fail to comprehend what expectation of privacy was infringed."

Special fertilizer is used to keep the variegated foliage that way. She also suggested adding a miniature African Violet to a terrarium for a special touch of color.

Tax Refunds Moving More Quickly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio taxpayers are receiving more money back faster on 1973 income assessments than the year before. The average refund mailed since the April 15 deadline on the state's second annual income tax is $4.01 more than 1972, said Stan Spaulding, administrative assistant in the Ohio Department of Taxation. "We made adjustments in the way we processed returns and the way we handled things. We just had another year to work on it," Spaulding said. A tax on income was first collected last year on 1972 salaries after the Ohio General Assembly approved and later the state's voters affirmed the levy proposed by Gov. John J. Gilligan to raise funds for education and other state services.

"In 1973 we started in Columbus with basically a new staff and it's just going through that period of learning the job," Spaulding said.

"Naturally we feel we'll continue to become more proficient as time goes around."

Refunds were a problem last year. Complications delayed processing of some forms resulting in the state paying a penalty to taxpayers who were owed money for more than 90 days.

"There were numerous complaints last year and they have been minimal this year. This goes with a year's experience on the job," he said.

Spaulding predicted this year refunds will be disbursed in plenty of time.

Toward the end of May, 2,156,010 refunds worth $39 million were mailed, the average check being $18.40, he said. Refunds on 1972 income tax returns averaged $14.39.

The state expects to receive $418 million in income taxes after refunds and credits for joint filings, Spaulding said. The department has collected $380 million already.

Spaulding attributed the rise in the average refund to adjustments by taxpayers and employers following the first year's experience. More taxpayers decided to take a bigger chunk from their checks weekly instead of digging into bank accounts the next year in search of tax money, Spaulding said.

"Except in the case where we had joint filings, most people who were strictly employees should have been withheld right on the nose," he said. "Where only one wage earner was, our brackets were geared pretty close."

"In cases where people owe money, the majority result from joint filers, two people working or two jobs," he said. "Basically we feel like we did a good job this year in getting returns processed and refunds out."

"We continue to take a look at it and see if there are any other ways to make it better," he said.

High Court Ruling To Have Little Effect In South

ATLANTA, Ga (AP)—A Supreme Court ruling that segregated private schools no longer can be given exclusive use of public recreation facilities apparently will have little impact in the South, where many whites fled to the suburbs years ago to avoid integration.

Most education officials polled after the ruling said such schools have their own facilities and that public ones are not needed. And some such schools, formed originally as tools of segregation, have now relaxed their policies and claim any child is welcome.

Die-hard segregationists said they didn't need public facilities for their schools and wouldn't use them if they did.

The Supreme Court upheld on Monday a district court ruling banning segregated schools in Montgomery, Ala., from using city football stadiums, baseball diamonds or basketball courts for official games.

But the high court failed to rule on whether the segregated academies could use other public facilities such as zoos, museums and parks and sent that matter back for the district court to decide.

George W. Shannon, editor of the segregationist magazine, "The Citizen," in Jackson, Miss., said the Citizen Council academies have been denied exclusive use of public facilities but that its pupils do make trips to public parks and zoos.

"They can go to parks or the Jackson zoo if they want to," Shannon said. "A representative of the (Ku Klux) Klan or the NAACP can go there."

He said council schools don't want to use public facilities because "we don't want any state aid of any kind."

Private school leaders in Montgomery where the case began in 1958 said the high court's decision now has little meaning because they no longer need to use the public facilities.

In Georgia, all three major private school organizations now claim to have racially open policies and therefore said they cannot be considered "white flight" academies as defined by the court.

Dayton And San Jose Show Similar Crime Patterns

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two distinctively-different cities, Dayton, Ohio, and San Jose, Calif., have been found to have extraordinarily similar crime patterns, a government agency reported Monday.

The Law Enforcement Assistance Administration said a survey, taken by the Census Bureau in a pilot program to measure the frequency and nature of crimes, disclosed these statistics about crime in 1970 in the two cities: —An individual living in either city that year had four chances in 100 of being robbed, assaulted, having a purse snatched or pocket picked.

—The chances were 40 in 100 that a person's household would be victimized at some time during the year.

—Two out of every 100 households experienced some form of property crime.

—Half of all personal and property crimes in both cities is never reported to police.

Hamilton County GOP Regroups

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— Reeling from recent setbacks which ended its 14-year political domination, the Hamilton County Republican party has regrouped for a bid to regain lost ground.

Earl Barnes, GOP county chairman, announced Monday the party is launching its earliest start ever for a Cincinnati city council race.

He said a screening committee has been established with the goal of producing at least 50 potential candidates for the 1975 November elections.

Data On Citizens Found Massive

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 1.25 billion pieces of information about American citizens have been collected in information data banks by 54 federal agencies, Congress has been told.

The statistics were contained in a 4,000-page report released today as the Senate Constitutional Rights subcommittee started work on privacy legislation.

The subcommittee says it is attempting to protect individual privacy against undue encroachment by data banks maintained by federal, state, local and commercial agencies.

The only strong difference in crime in the two cities, the agency said, results from their different treatment of minority residents.

The study said San Jose, with a population of 500,000 and Dayton, with a population of 250,000, differ extensively in their patterns of growth. San Jose grew rapidly with no clear distinction between the city and the suburbs, while Dayton has experienced no growth in the past 20 years, and is shaped into a core city surrounded by suburbs.

What little differences exist "usually spring from the different experiences of minority groups in the two cities," the report said.

In Dayton, the study said, black residents usually are poorer than whites and live in low-income areas of the central city where crime is more prevalent.

In San Jose Spanish-Americans "are not as highly concentrated in low-income areas, and the low-income areas themselves are not as localized and dense," the report stated. San Jose has few blacks and the largest racial minority is Spanish-American.

"In Dayton, one out of every five black families was burglarized in 1970. This victimization rate is more than twice that for white families..."

"Black families were the victims in a fourth of all burglaries in Dayton, but they were the victims in almost half of the burglaries in which the loss exceeded $500."

The report said the data indicates "that Dayton burglars exercise some selectivity; that although they may choose the target within the inner city ghetto, they choose among the more prosperous homes located there."

The over-all burglary rate is about the same in both cities, the report said, but in San Jose the risk is "much more evenly shared by San Jose's various population groups."

Commission Delays Ban On Fireworks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans can enjoy the patriotic and deafening boom of firecrackers this Fourth of July after all.

The government just asks that you be careful.

The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission voted 5-0 Monday, just six hours before its midnight firecracker ban was to have taken effect, to grant Chinese and U.S. fireworks firms a public hearing on their objections.

That stays the ban, new safety standards and labeling for other types of fireworks at least 30 days.

"The commission has not made any determination of the merits of the issues raised," a spokesman said. "It has only determined that objections meet the legal test to require a hearing."

Fireworks manufacturers and traders from Taiwan, Macao, Hong Kong and Oklahoma had complained that the proposed federal crackdown might stick them with $50 million worth of newly banned hazardous substances.

They argued in a petition submitted last Friday that the hazard of at least some small firecrackers could be reduced to "acceptable levels," and that certain other legal requirements of the law had not been met in the commission's proposed actions.

The commission estimated that 6,600 persons were treated in hospital emergency rooms for fireworks-related injuries last year. It concluded that while new performance standards could make most fireworks, including some rockets safer, there appeared to be no way to improve firecrackers short of a ban.

Commissioner Barbara Franklin said the proposed ban, even though stayed, "heightened peoples' awareness of firecrackers" through the widespread publicity it received.

"We've done as much as we can for this Fourth of July," she said.

The proposed regulations were opposed by a segment of the $180-million-a-year industry supplying two-thirds of the rockets and one-third of the firecrackers sold in the United States. The domestic segment of the industry, the American Pyrotechnics Association, whose members do not make firecrackers, supported the proposed ban.

Hawaii was twice rebuffed in its requests for an extension of the public comment period. The state attorney general, acting governor and chamber of commerce argued that firecrackers play an important role in Chinese-American religious and cultural celebrations.

Village Chief In Hot Water

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Burton Village Council President Charles Pickett is in hot water.

He is to appear in Chardon Municipal Court today on a charge of petty theft. Last Sunday night, cemetery sexton Richard Hess was walking through the village cemetery behind Pickett's house when he noticed a hose hooked onto the cemetery water tap.

He followed the hose about 200 feet through a garden and up to Pickett's 7,500-gallon swimming pool. Then he called the police.

"The tap was handy, too damned handy. It'll never happen again," Pickett said.

Pickett offered to pay for the water, either $1.60 or $8.50, depending on how the Board of Public Affairs assesses him.

The charges were computed by the village clerk, Pickett's wife, Marilyn.

Park Up For Sale

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—An investor could buy for $2.2 million an entire village, an amusement park, a lake, a ballroom and a restaurant.

Meyers Lake Park, an amusement park on a 281-acre tract near Canton, is for sale.

Hard times have come to the park and to the rest of the town.

George Sinclair, Meyers Lake owner, says the amusement park is the victim of amusement giants such as Cedar Point, Kings Island and Sea World.

"Our life blood was the industrial picnics held here each year," said Sinclair, the third generation of his family to own Meyers Lake. "We don't get them anymore."

He added that he would operate the ballroom and lakeshore restaurant while continuing his four-year search for a buyer.

The 173 persons who live in the lakefront community may buy the village. They live in houses on land leased from Sinclair.

The tax value on Meyers Lake real estate was set at $946,500 in 1973 by the Stark County auditor.

The village council also is exploring the possibility of buying Meyers Lake.

Mrs. Fred Wilhelm, village clerk and wife of the mayor, says the residents seem interested in buying the whole package.

"If somebody is going to buy it, why not us?" she said.

Charles Decker, who heads the council committee, says the group has talked to local banks and has been told that a loan for the purchase is possible.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Lady Love Is Call Girl

DEAR ABBY: A few months ago I met and fell in love with the most beautiful girl I've ever seen. She liked me, too, and soon she was staying with me, cooking my meals and taking care of my apartment. It seemed like an ideal setup, but there is just one problem: she works days in a massage parlor, and is a call girl at night.

She makes more in one night than I make in a whole week, but she never has any money because she likes to gamble, and she gives ten per cent of her earnings to the church.

Is there any way I can get her to quit taking those calls at night? She says she loves me, but she can't live on what I make.

A FOOL IN LOVE (You said it, I didn't.) So your lady love works in a massage parlor by day and is a call girl by night? When does she work you in? I'm afraid it's hopeless, unless you can make more, or she agrees to settle for less.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is a peculiar one. I've been dating a very special young lady for the past two months. She is perfect in every way except for her elbows. They have got to be the ugliest matching pair I have ever seen. I've never mentioned this to her, but she must be aware of it because she keeps them hidden by long sleeves when possible.

I've met her parents only once and they both seem to have normal elbows so it's not hereditary. Could she have developed those ugly elbows through drug abuse? Or could she have had a vitamin deficiency when she was young?

I wouldn't hurt her feelings by asking her what happened to her elbows because I love her, but I wonder if you can tell me anything that might shed some light on the subject.

Alcoholism, Drug Addiction Among Women Discussed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Sexism shades the treatment of women alcoholics and women drug addicts, a pioneer in women's drug therapy said here Tuesday.

Repressed anger at being forced to exhibit the female stereotype is at the root of alcoholism and drug abuse among women, said Ardelle Schultz, director of Treatment Today Inc., drug rehabilitation center in Newtown, Pa.

Male doctors and male psychiatrists only reinforce feelings of inferiority, passiveness, helplessness and anger in female patients, shoving them deeper into dependency on drugs, Ms. Schultz said.

Ms. Schultz, a former fashion model and alcoholic, spoke before the Ohio Drug Institute.

Women with drug problems need special treatment, Ms. Schultz said. She called the number of facilities which offer this treatment "grossly inadequate" in the United States.

Most drug and alcoholism rehabilitation programs are male-oriented, she said.

Women-only programs often are added as an afterthought she said, with no thought to providing day care centers or foster homes for children.

Furthermore, little is known about why women turn to drugs and alcohol, and what is known is being distorted by male attitudes.

She talked about her own treatment as a woman alcoholic.

"We were viewed as overly aggressive and angry, and society does not like angry little girls," she said. "Men fear angry women."

"The message women get from male doctors is clear: if you want my help you will have to be what I want you to be," she said.

But in order to be free of the need for drugs, for escape, "women should learn to accept in themselves

2 Ohioans Injured In Indiana Air Crash

GREENCASTLE, Ind. (AP)— Officials at Putnam County Hospital reported two Ohio men remained in serious conditions with injuries they received Tuesday in the crash of their light plane.

The plane crash-landed in a wheat field northeast of this western Indiana city, injuring Richard Barker, 29, of University Heights, the pilot, and Wayne Link, 28, of Burton, police said. Cause of the crash was not determined.

NAME WITHHELD BY REQUEST
DEAR NAME: It's entirely possible that the young lady's elbows are perfectly normal-it's your concept of ugliness that's far-out. As long as they bend in the right places and you say she is otherwise perfect and you love her, why not accept her as she is-elbows and all? I trust that you are a perfectly flawless man.

DEAR ABBY: I am 41 and my boyfriend is 43. We've gone together for six months, and have been considering marriage. We've both been married and divorced. I have worked for 23 years and have some money in the bank. Probably more than he has.

Out of curiosity mostly, I asked him if I could borrow $200. He said, "Yes, but you will have to sign a note." When I showed surprise, he added, "It wouldn't matter if it was my brother or sister. When it comes to money, I want a note."

I couldn't get over his attitude. Then I told him I really didn't need the money, I just wanted to see how he'd handle it, and he said I should write to you and get your opinion. So I'm writing.

CORKY
DEAR CORKY: I'm with him. A loan is a business deal, and he sounds like a hard-nosed businessman. I'll bet a lot more people regret not having asked for a note than regret having asked for one.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "CRYING A RIVER IN BUFFALO": Believe him. It's all over. I think you gave too much. There's nothing for him to come back for.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

masculine traits that her addiction soothes," she said.

Motherhood poses a particular problem for women addicts, she said.

Motherhood is the only accepted career identification a woman can make that gives her power and prestige, Ms. Schultz said.

"But for an addict it is almost impossible to play the role of mother, and children are left to neighbors or agencies. This brings guilt and shame to a woman."

"She spends the rest of her life trying to forgive herself for committing society's gravest crime, failure at motherhood," she said.

Gilligan Says Campaign Income Poor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John J. Gilligan has expressed concern that Ohio Republicans are raising three times as much money as Democrats in Ohio this year.

He told a news conference Monday that fellow Democrats have contributed "just enough" to keep the party and staff going and that he is not counting on a $100,000 state headquarters contribution budgeted for his re-election last December.

Gilligan indicated the party had just about run the route of fund raising dinners in his behalf — six that produced about $350,000 — and that future donations will have to come primarily from small donors through the mails.

He said "there is a complacency" that has developed among Democrats and that he hopes news of the GOP efforts will help to give them "a jolt." Gilligan held the news conference to disclose contributions and expenditures for his successful primary campaign for re-election.

It listed contributions of $557,726 and expenditures of $361,811 for the period from last Oct. 1 through May 7. There is a balance of $195,915 but the governor noted unpaid bills amounting to $25,744.

Gilligan said he expects to stay within the approximately $1.1 million limit on his fall campaign set in the state's new campaign financing law which takes effect July 23.

The governor's GOP opponent, former Gov. James A. Rhodes, has filed no reports so far but was not required to. However, existing law requires all candidates to file within 45 days after the primary — or by late this month. Prior to Monday, Gilligan had filed three reports voluntarily.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Lady Love Is Call Girl

DEAR ABBY: A few months ago I met and fell in love with the most beautiful girl I've ever seen. She liked me, too, and soon she was staying with me, cooking my meals and taking care of my apartment. It seemed like an ideal setup, but there is just one problem: she works days in a massage parlor, and is a call girl at night.

She makes more in one night than I make in a whole week, but she never has any money because she likes to gamble, and she gives ten per cent of her earnings to the church.

Is there any way I can get her to quit taking those calls at night? She says she loves me, but she can't live on what I make.

A FOOL IN LOVE

DEAR FOOL: (You said it, I didn't.) So your lady love works in a massage parlor by day and is a call girl by night? When does she work you in? I'm afraid it's hopeless, unless you can make more, or she agrees to settle for less.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is a peculiar one. I've been dating a very special young lady for the past two months. She is perfect in every way except for her elbows. They have got to be the ugliest matching pair I have ever seen. I've never mentioned this to her, but she must be aware of it because she keeps them hidden by long sleeves when possible.

I've met her parents only once and they both seem to have normal elbows so it's not hereditary. Could she have developed those ugly elbows through drug abuse? Or could she have had a vitamin deficiency when she was young?

I wouldn't hurt her feelings by asking her what happened to her elbows because I love her, but I wonder if you can tell me anything that might shed some light on the subject.

Impeachment Panel Eyes Next Move

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee has entered the final week of examining evidence in its impeachment inquiry, still undecided about what comes next.

Questions concerning calling of witnesses, President Nixon's defense argument and public release are being put off until the evidence is all in. Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr. D-N.J., hopes that will have been gathered by Thursday or Friday and is planning to devote the following week to the unresolved questions.

The committee returns to the Watergate cover-up when it resumes its closed session today, concentrating on the establishment of the special Watergate prosecutor's office.

The committee is pursuing its inquiry in chronological order and the firing of special prosecutor Archibald Cox last Oct. 20 will about wind up the Watergate phase.

All that will be left then is an examination of Nixon's income tax payments for 1969-72, with the emphasis on his deduction of $576,000 for papers given to the United States, and a study of the secret bombing of Cambodia in 1969-70.

Meanwhile, former presidential lawyer Herbert W. Kalmbach was sentenced Monday to six to 18 months in prison and fined $10,000 for violating election laws. Kalmbach had pleaded guilty to two charges—bartering an ambassadorship for a $100,000 campaign contribution and a technical campaign violation.

Grange News

STAR GRANGE

Star Grange met in regular session Tuesday evening in the Five Points United Methodist church basement for their June meeting. Worthy master, Harold Furniss, presided over the business session and heard the various reports.

It was announced that the bake sale and bazaar will be held Saturday and the proceeds are to go to the Friendly Hills Camp. The group voted to have a booth at the Pickaway County Fair again this year the theme to be, "Beacon light of the community."

Mt. Pleasant Grange members were guests and brought their program. The lecturer, Mrs. John Moss, opened the program with a contest with all grangers participating, with Helen Hammel and Harold Furniss captains. Mrs. Hammel's team received the most points.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Porter gave a reading, "A Hillbilly Husband and Wife". Mrs. Moss read a tribute to "Father" and a humorous playlet, "Good Morning, Your Honor" was presented by members of Mt. Pleasant Grange to close the program.

Seasonal refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Herman Porter and Mrs. Joan Reid.

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP)— Wounds received during a burglary attempt last week have caused the death of Randy Kephart, 15, of Cleveland, Ohio, state police reported Tuesday.

Kephart, who was shot in the neck by the manager of a food store near Dubois during the burglary attempt June 11, died in Altoona Hospital Monday. Authorities are seeking two other youths who are believed to have participated in the crime.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Conrad and Mrs. Leona Rife were Friday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hughey and daughters.

Find Life More Difficult For Elderly Due To Costs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Life is becoming increasingly difficult for a person over 65, with rising costs, a shrinking Social Security check and efforts to segregate him from society, according to Douglas Woodruff.

Woodruff, president of the American Association of Retired Persons, says the retired person is hardest hit in areas of housing, health and transportation.

Here Monday to address a local chapter of the organization, Woodruff said governments should increase Social Security benefits and exempt the elderly from some of the tax load.

"They don't use the schools or the highways, so why should they pay for them," he said.

Poverty and relief program only demean the individual, Woodruff said, adding, "They take the dignity out of the individual."

He said his group is pushing for government sponsored programs that would provide free medical checkups and other forms of preventive medical programs for the retired person.

"The government would save money with preventive medicine," Woodruff said. "They lose money now when the person has to be hospitalized because they are helping to pick up the tab," he said.

Woodruff said he has been touring the country, meeting with governors to discuss problems facing today's retired person.

His group balks at the term "senior citizen" because it "tends to segregate the older person from the mainstream of life," he said.

"We encourage the retired person to take part in community and civic affairs. The image of the older person is wrong and one we are trying to get away from."

Woodruff said his group has seven million members nationwide and 300,000 in Ohio.

Marion Youth Killed

MARION, Ohio (AP)—Brian Thompson, 13, of Marion was killed Tuesday when a can of gasoline exploded on the back porch of his sister's home here. Police said gasoline fumes were ignited by a pilot light in a water heater.

Ohio Fruit Crops In Good Shape

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Boom harvests are predicted for Ohio apple and peach growers this year despite killing cold snaps this spring.

Kenneth Ackers of the Ohio Crop Reporting Service estimated the fall peach crop at 313,000 bushels, compared to 1973's low 104,000 bushels.

Apples, too, should pass last year's yield by about one million bushels, said John Hackenbrach, manager of the Ohio Fruit Growers Association.

Such a yield would bring Ohio up to par with the average of the last three years' harvests, he said. In 1973, he said, apple growers realized gross revenues of nearly $11 million. Frost and freeze damage has lowered Ohio peach yield for the past three years, Hackenbrach said.

This year, about 40 per cent of the crop was wiped out by late freezes, mainly in central Ohio, he said. But increased production this year should make up for the loss—and more—this year, he added.

Also hurt by cold weather, he said, were pears, plums and prunes.

To add to the farmers' woes, farming costs are up again this year, Hackenbrach said.

"Price changes in the past few months alone have jumped cost of production to 40 per cent," said Dr. Elton Stang, horticulturist for the Extension Service at Ohio State University.

Freight is up 27 per cent from last year, interest on bank loans is up 40 per cent, and fuel is up by 80 per cent, Stang said.

At the same time, he said, "The average increase in production has been no more than 10 per cent a year." The energy crisis has been felt in two areas of production, Hackenbrach said.

"Plastic bags, used to wrap the foodstuffs, and pesticides are high and scarce," he said.

As a result, consumers eventually can expect to pay slightly higher prices for fruit, Hackenbrach said.

"I would expect at least $6 a bushel for apples this year for the grower that packs and ships them," he said.

"Anything too low and you will see some growers going out of business."

We won't stop trying till you say Weeeeee!

Impeachment Panel Eyes Next Move

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee has entered the final week of examining evidence in its impeachment inquiry, still undecided about what comes next.

Questions concerning calling of witnesses, President Nixon's defense argument and public release are being put off until the evidence is all in. Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr. D-N.J., hopes that will have been gathered by Thursday or Friday and is planning to devote the following week to the unresolved questions.

The committee returns to the Watergate cover-up when it resumes its closed session today, concentrating on the establishment of the special Watergate prosecutor's office.

The committee is pursuing its inquiry in chronological order and the firing of special prosecutor Archibald Cox last Oct. 20 will about wind up the Watergate phase.

All that will be left then is an examination of Nixon's income tax payments for 1969-72, with the emphasis on his deduction of $576,000 for papers given to the United States, and a study of the secret bombing of Cambodia in 1969-70.

Meanwhile, former presidential lawyer Herbert W. Kalmbach was sentenced Monday to six to 18 months in prison and fined $10,000 for violating election laws. Kalmbach had pleaded guilty to two charges — bartering an ambassadorship for a $100,000 campaign contribution and a technical campaign violation.

Grange News

STAR GRANGE

Star Grange met in regular session Tuesday evening in the Five Points United Methodist church basement for their June meeting. Worthy master, Harold Furniss, presided over the business session and heard the various reports.

It was announced that the bake sale and bazaar will be held Saturday and the proceeds are to go to the Friendly Hills Camp. The group voted to have a booth at the Pickaway County Fair again this year the theme to be, "Beacon light of the community."

Mt. Pleasant Grange members were guests and brought their program. The lecturer, Mrs. John Moss, opened the program with a contest with all grangers participating, with Helen Hammel and Harold Furniss captains. Mrs. Hammel's team received the most points.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Porter gave a reading, "A Hillbilly Husband and Wife". Mrs. Moss read a tribute to "Father" and a humorous playlet, "Good Morning, Your Honor" was presented by members of Mt. Pleasant Grange to close the program.

Seasonal refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Herman Porter and Mrs. Joan Reid.

Wounds In Burglary Fatal To Youth

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP) — Wounds received during a burglary attempt last week have caused the death of Randy Kephart, 15, of Cleveland, Ohio, state police reported Tuesday.

Kephart, who was shot in the neck by the manager of a food store near Dubois during the burglary attempt June 11, died in Altoona Hospital Monday. Authorities are seeking two other youths who are believed to have participated in the crime.

Find Life More Difficult For Elderly Due To Costs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Life is becoming increasingly difficult for a person over 65, with rising costs, a shrinking Social Security check and efforts to segregate him from society, according to Douglas Woodruff.

Woodruff, president of the American Association of Retired Persons, says the retired person is hardest hit in areas of housing, health and transportation.

Here Monday to address a local chapter of the organization, Woodruff said governments should increase Social Security benefits and exempt the elderly from some of the tax load. "They don't use the schools or the highways, so why should they pay for them," he said.

Poverty and relief program only demean the individual, Woodruff said, adding, "They take the dignity out of the individual."

He said his group is pushing for government sponsored programs that would provide free medical checkups and other forms of preventive medical programs for the retired person.

"The government would save money with preventive medicine," Woodruff

said. "They lose money now when the person has to be hospitalized because they are helping to pick up the tab," he said.

Woodruff said he has been touring the country, meeting with governors to discuss problems facing today's retired person.

His group balks at the term "senior citizen" because it "tends to segregate the older person from the mainstream of life," he said.

"We encourage the retired person to take part in community and civic affairs. The image of the older person is wrong and one we are trying to get away from."

Woodruff said his group has seven million members nationwide and 300,000 in Ohio.

Marion Youth Killed

MARION, Ohio (AP)—Brian Thompson, 13, of Marion was killed Tuesday when a can of gasoline exploded on the back porch of his sister's home here. Police said gasoline fumes were ignited by a pilot light in a water heater.

Ohio Fruit Crops In Good Shape

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Boom harvests are predicted for Ohio apple and peach growers this year despite killing cold snaps this spring.

Kenneth Ackers of the Ohio Crop Reporting Service estimated the fall peach crop at 313,000 bushels, compared to 1973's low 104,000 bushels.

Apples, too, should pass last year's yield by about one million bushels, said John Hackenbrach, manager of the Ohio Fruit Growers Association.

Such a yield would bring Ohio up to par with the average of the last three years' harvests, he said. In 1973, he said, apple growers realized gross revenues of nearly $11 million.

Frost and freeze damage has lowered Ohio peach yield for the past three years, Hackenbrach said.

This year, about 40 per cent of the crop was wiped out by late freezes, mainly in central Ohio, he said. But increased production this year should make up for the loss—and more—this year, he added.

Also hurt by cold weather, he said, were pears, plums and prunes.

To add to the farmers' woes, farming costs are up again this year, Hackenbrach said.

"Price changes in the past few months alone have jumped cost of production to 40 per cent," said Dr. Elton Stang, horticulturist for the Extension Service at Ohio State University.

Freight is up 27 per cent from last year, interest on bank loans is up 40 per cent, and fuel is up by 80 per cent, Stang said.

At the same time, he said, "The average increase in production has been no more than 10 per cent a year." The energy crisis has been felt in two areas of production, Hackenbrach said.

"Plastic bags, used to wrap the foodstuffs, and pesticides are high and scarce," he said.

As a result, consumers eventually can expect to pay slightly higher prices for fruit, Hackenbrach said.

"I would expect at least $6 a bushel for apples this year for the grower that packs and ships them," he said.

"Anything too low and you will see some growers going out of business."

We won't stop trying till you say Weeeeee!

Nine members of Pickaway County 4-H clubs are attending the Ohio 4-H Club Congress which will end tomorrow.

They are Barbara Bolender, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Bolender, Route 4; Kathy Valentine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Valentine, Route 1; Ann Bowser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bowser, Route 1, Williamsport; Judy Wolford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Wolford, Route 1, New Holland; Kathy Woodruff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Woodruff, Route 2, Ashville;

Mrs. Elmer Barr Jr., 171 Long St., Ashville; Scott Harmount, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt Harmount, Route 1, Ashville; Bruce DeBruin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl DeBruin, Route 5; and Vernon Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Elliott, Route 1, Williamsport.

They were selected to serve as delegates by the 4-H Awards Committee for their leadership abilities in 4-H, the community, church, and school.

Delegates from Ohio's 88 counties are represented at the Club Congress, where they learn about the state legislature. They will vote on hand gun control from the floor of the house and senate.

The Ohio Club Congress is one of only two groups who are permitted to vote from the floor throughout the year.

The delegates attend workshops on leadership and projects designed to benefit their local clubs. They spend a major portion of their time on career exploration and awareness.

The program is designed to give delegates the opportunity to meet with members of 4-H clubs throughout the state, from whom they learn techniques and ideas which can be implemented in the Pickaway County 4-H program.

Unusual Air Show Introduced At Kings Island

AIR SHOW—Billed as the "greatest show off earth," the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company and Kings Island land entertainment center near Cincinnati have joined forces to present a spectacular air show. The show, to be viewed weekdays in the park, includes three skydivers in a demonstration of precision diving, an 80-foot hot air balloon and aerial "dogfight" between two biplanes.

KINGS MILLS — A hot air balloon, two biplanes and a sky-diving team have been joined in a spectacular aerial show sponsored by The Firestone Tire & Rubber Company at Kings Island this summer.

The show, called the Kings Island-Firestone International Air Show, will be performed during the weekday evenings throughout the summer in the park and will be made available for mutual promotions away from Kings Island.

James Gruber, manager of promotion and special events for Kings Island, said the air show begins on International Street, one of six themed areas in the park. The manned hot air balloon, which stands 80 feet high and costs about $15,000, is inflated and launched from the park.

As the balloon ascends, two biplanes, a post-World War I fighter and a 1940 trainer, fly past the balloon and do a series of precision aerobatic maneuvers, such as loops, rolls and spins, over the park.

Seconds after the planes make a final pass over the crowd, the skydivers jump from another overhead plane. On their descent, the jumpers perform several free fall stunts and then land on the site previously vacated by the hot air balloon.

A Firestone spokesman said his company is participating in Kings Island and the air show on a sponsorship basis. Like other corporate sponsors at Kings Island, Firestone is able to display and use its name in many of the park's promotional programs.

Both companies have said they will heavily promote and advertise the aerial show as "the greatest show off earth."

Mass transit carried 7.3 billion riders in 1970, less than half the 15.6 billion people accommodated in 1930.

See 'Waiting Period' For Mideast

LAJES, Azores (AP) — President Nixon is coming home from the streets, palaces and deserts of the Middle East for what aides call "a waiting period" in the search for Arab-Israeli peace.

It may be weeks or months before the full impact of his unprecedented, five-nation tour is known, officials say.

But the tentative assessment by both official and unofficial sources is summed up in two examples:

—As Nixon was leaving Jordan at the end of his tour, a Beirut magazine hit the stands with a cover photograph of the President Nixon wearing a dubbed-in Arabian headdress, known as a kaffiah. "A convert," said the caption.

—Opposition forces in Israel's parliament challenged Premier Yitzhak Rabin because his government was not consulted before Nixon signed a nuclear energy compact with Egypt, an accord similar to one he signed three days later with Israel.

In other words: Nixon's strenuous diplomatic barnstorming through the Middle East gave both the Arabs and the Israelis the impression that the U. S. government is more sympathetic to the Arabs than it used to be. But the President brought the Arabs and Israelis no closer together yet.

"We know where each side stands, and they know what our policy is," said one American official. "Now we're going to have to have a waiting period to see what develops."

White House officials brush aside Israel's anxiety over Nixon's new Arab policies, saying the concern is predictable but not permanent. They insist the benefits of the policies are worth what they view as a temporary cooling of U.S.-Israeli relations.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger told a news conference Monday that six months ago the Middle East was a classic case of polarization. The Soviet Union was the Arabs' benefactor; the United States was the Israelis'. Arab-Israeli tension invariably meant Soviet-American tension.

Then came the October war and a change in U.S. policy. Nixon sent Kissinger on a constant round of shuttle diplomacy, building ties with previously hostile Arab governments while negotiating disengagement agreements.

"For the first time in the existence of Israel, the Arab states, even the more radical ones like Syria, are talking about a continuing state of Israel," said Kissinger. "Some of the Arab states seem to have made a rather crucial decision to seek to work out modalities of coexistence with the state of Israel."

It also could be weeks or months before the domestic impact of Nixon's foreign travels is clear.

The Circleville Herald, Wednesday June 19, 1974 21

Scioto Challenge Stakes Goes In 2 Races Thursday

The Scioto Downs Challenge Stakes three-year-old trot scheduled for Thursday night attracted 24 entries forcing the race into two divisions of 12 each. The $24,000 purse will be split in half, with each division going for $12,000 and a silver Challenge Stakes trophy.

As usual, the second division is the tougher of the two.

In the second division, there's a three-way tie for the position of early favorite between the nationally-ranked Christopher T from the Billy Haughton stables, Joe O'Brien's Keystone Hazard, and the powerful Ohio-owned Parlay R. C. driven by Ben White.

Christopher T, slated to be driven by Pete Haughton, was ranked in the nation at the beginning of the season. The son of Ayres owns a lifetime mark of 2:01 4-5, and last week was second to the top-ranked Nevel Diamond in the Thompsons at Hazel Park.

Parlay R. C., owned by Florence England of Marion, belongs in the leader list. Trained and driven by Ben White, this young son of Florican, won 15 of 25 starts in 1973, and just two weeks ago, blazed around Scioto's oval in 2:02 1-5.

Keystone Hazard, co-owned by Joe O'Brien and Stan Bergstein of Chicago, is undefeated in five starts this year, including a 2:05 1-5 trip at Hazel Park.

Owned by Leo Soehnen of Canton, Dream of Glory is the current national season champion three-year-old trotter over a half mile track with a win in 2:05 1-5 at Northfield Park. With Young Pius Soehnen in the sulky, Dream of Glory took a two-year-old mark of 2:03 3-5 over a half mile track, and was ranked third as one of the top sophomore trotters in the nation this year.

Howard Beissinger, the two-time winner of the Hambletonian trotting classic, has a two horse stable entry in the second division with Stock Split and Parisian Belle.

Stock Split, co-owned by Beissinger's wife, Ann, and Faye Gillan of Hamilton, has won two of five starts this year, including a 2:08 3-5 come-from-behind dazzler. Parisian Belle, owned by Judge Garrett Claypool of Chillicothe showed she had plenty of class with a win in 2:10 4-5 over an off-track at Scioto last week.

Young Ron Dancer, son of one of harness racing's most prestigious horseman, Stanley, made his first appearance at Scioto with the highly regarded My Super Pride, a son of Hickory Pride.

Terry Holton has the promising Deputy Marshall, Watson Provost will go with Tee Vee Colby, a son of B. F. Coaltown, Charlie Jordan returns with Bag Pipes, and Bob Cheney will challenge with Go Power to complete the second division.

In the first division, Pete Haughton shares the early favorite role with the classy Keystone Gabriel, who is coupled with the Ohio-owned sensation, Golden Sovereign.

Keystone Gabriel is co-owned by Pete's dad, Billy, along with Max Hempt, Dr. Paul Soldner of Springfield, and the brothers, Dale and Floyd Miller of Archbold, Ohio. A buzzing bay son of Hickory Pride, Keystone Gabriel, was fourth to Nevele Diamond in The Thompsons, and owns a lifetime mark of 2:04 4-5.

Golden Sovereign, owned by Phil Drake of Columbus, and Kathryn Richardson of Painesville, is trained and driven by Dick Richardson Jr. This son of Floris shows three wins in five starts this year, including a dramatic come-from-behind win in 2:04 1-5 at Scioto last Friday night.

Rated a close second on the early line is the New York star, Star Shot with the veteran Bill Popfinger in the sulky, and the Howard Beissinger stable entry of Arrow Hill and Keystone Liberty.

Joe O'Brien liked what he saw in another classy son of B. F. Coaltown, and drove Slick Hill for the first time last week at Northfield Park. Owned by Gerald Gibson of Hudson, Ohio, Liberty Hill won in 2:05 4-5 at Northfield Park earlier, and finished a close third last week.

Tom Brinkerhoff has Tempted Yankee, young Rick Midden has the Curly Smart owned Penthouse, and Frank Todd Sr., will drive Darmiss. Don Corbett will drive Buckle Down, Marc Ferguson entered Arthur Freight, and Jack Betts has Miss Ron Town to complete the first division.

Mogan Wins Class; Set For Tourney

Gary Mogan finished first in the Olen tangy Summer Wrestling Classic held at Olen tangy High School June 14 and 15.

Mogan easily swept through the 178-pound weight class, winning six matches. He was penalized only 2½ bad marks.

The win gives Mogan the opportunity to participate in the Junior Olympic Freestyle Tournament to be held at DeSales High School July 6 and 7.

Wrestlers who finish in the top three in their weight class earn an expense-free trip to Iowa City, Iowa, to participate in the National Championships.

SEOGA Tourney Scheduled

The Southeastern Ohio Golf Assn. tournament will be held at Marietta Country Club this weekend.

Representing Pickaway Country Club for the team title are: Steve and Bruce Helwagen, Rick Macklin, Dick Wilcox, Dean MacFadden, Brent Bell, Larry Oiler, Larry McFadden, Fred Belles, Bud Hritz.

Lancaster Country Club is the defending champion. The Pickaway Country Club team was runnerup a year ago.

2 Tie For Low Net In PCC Golf Play

Bruce Helwagen carded low gross and Bill Thornton and Bill Ottinger tied for low net during the Tuesday Men's League at Pickaway Country Club.

Helwagen shot a 35 and Thornton and Ottinger both had net scores of 32. Team No. 2 won the second night of the second round with a score of 17½ points. Members of Team 2 are Dick Wilcox, Ken Williams, Jim Butler, Ben Brian, Carson Scheffer, Dick Theis, Sid Saunders, Jim Stoneburner.

After two weeks, Team No. 1 leads with 33½ points, Team No. 6 has 32½ and Team No. 3 30 points.

The Pittsburgh Pirates' starting rotation is a nice place to visit but Dave Giusti wouldn't want to live there.

"You get used to the pace in the bullpen and it's tough when you have to go out there for more than a few innings," the veteran relief ace said Tuesday night after making his first start since 1970 and blanking the Los Angeles Dodgers for seven innings in the Pirates' 2-0 victory.

Houston's Mike Cosgrove, on the other hand, would like to follow in Giusti's footsteps ... or at least the path Giusti trod when he made 113 starts for the Astros in 1965-6-7-8 before he was traded first to St. Louis and then to Pittsburgh.

"I would like to think I've earned a starting assignment, but I don't think so," the young left-hander said after relieving Dave Roberts with one out in the first inning and holding the Philadelphia Phillies to a pair of bunt singles the rest of the way in Houston's 1-0 triumph.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Montreal Expos edged the Cincinnati Reds 2-1, the Atlanta Braves trounced the New York Mets 6-1, the St. Louis Cardinals blanked the San Francisco Giants 3-0 and the San Diego Padres whipped the Chicago Cubs 9-4.

Expos 2, Reds 1

Jim Cox led off the ninth inning against Clay Kirby with his second major league home run and Ernie McAnally hurled a two-hitter for Montreal. Ken Singleton singled home a run for the Expos in the first inning and the Reds tied it in the third on a walk and Pete Rose's double.

Braves 6, Mets 1

Ivan Murrell drove in four runs with a bases-loaded triple and his first home run of the season and Atlanta rolled to its 23rd triumph in the last 31 games behind the seven-hit pitching of Roric Harrison.

Cardinals 3, Giants 0

Alan Foster pitched a fivehitter and singles by Joe Torre and Mike Tyson produced runs in the first and fourth innings. Foster, making his first start in three weeks, notched his first triumph since April 20.

Padres 9, Cubs 4

Pitcher Dave Freisleben singled home one run, doubled and scored another and combined with Bill Greif on a seven-hitte despite home runs by Chicago's Jose Cardenal, Bill Madlock and Chris Ward.

Kaat Posts 200th Win; Tops Tribe

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Reporters and photographers gathered and the three-foot letters spelling out Jin Kaat's 200th pitching victory created a festive air.

But the 17-year veteran Chicago White Sox lefthander was not overwhelmed and put his record in perspective.

"I thought about the 200th win on and off," said Kaat, after the White Sox downed the Cleveland Indians 7-2 in American League baseball Tuesday night.

"But right now I have to be more concerned about winning a spot on the rotation of this club," he added. "And when you compare the number of starts I've had to other pitchers, you'll see that what I did was not that significant. I've only averaged about 14 victories a year."

The 35-year-old hurler spent 13 of his big league years with the Minnesota Twins and recorded his best performance in 1966 when he went 25 and 13 with the Twins.

Last year the White Sox acquired him and he was 7-3. After winning four of his first five decisions this year, he dropped the next five and now has a record of 6-6.

Scioto Challenge Stakes Goes In 2 Races Thursday

The Scioto Downs Challenge Stakes three-year-old trot scheduled for Thursday night attracted 24 entries forcing the race into two divisions of 12 each. The $24,000 purse will be split in half, with each division going for $12,000 and a silver Challenge Stakes trophy.

As usual, the second division is the tougher of the two.

In the second division, there's a three-way tie for the position of early favorite between the nationally-ranked Christopher T from the Billy Haughton stables, Joe O'Brien's Keystone Hazard, and the powerful Ohio-owned Parlay R. C. driven by Ben White.

Christopher T, slated to be driven by Pete Haughton, was ranked in the nation at the beginning of the season. The son of Ayres owns a lifetime mark of 2:01 4-5, and last week was second to the top-ranked Nevel Diamond in the Thompsons at Hazel Park.

Parlay R. C., owned by Florence England of Marion, belongs in the leader list. Trained and driven by Ben White, this young son of Florican, won 15 of 25 starts in 1973, and just two weeks ago, blazed around Scioto's oval in 2:02 1-5.

Keystone Hazard, co-owned by Joe O'Brien and Stan Bergstein of Chicago, is undefeated in five starts this year, including a 2:05 1-5 trip at Hazel Park.

Owned by Leo Soehnen of Canton, Dream of Glory is the current national season champion three-year-old trotter over a half mile track with a win in 2:05 1-5 at Northfield Park. With Young Pius Soehnen in the sulky, Dream of Glory took a two-year-old mark of 2:03 3-5 over a half mile track, and was ranked third as one of the top sophomore trotters in the nation this year.

Howard Beissinger, the two-time winner of the Hambletonian trotting classic, has a two horse stable entry in the second division with Stock Split and Parisian Belle.

Stock Split, co-owned by Beissinger's wife, Ann, and Faye Gillan of Hamilton, has won two of five starts this year, including a 2:08 3-5 come-from-behind dazzer. Parisian Belle, owned by Judge Garrett Claypool of Chillicothe showed she had plenty of class with a win in 2:10 4-5 over an off-track at Scioto last week.

Young Ron Dancer, son of one of harness racing's most prestigious horsemen, Stanley, made his first appearance at Scioto with the highly regarded My Super Pride, a son of Hickory Pride.

Terry Holton has the promising Deputy Marshall, Watson Provost will go with Tee Vee Colby, a son of B. F. Coaltown, Charlie Jordan returns with Bag Pipes, and Bob Cheney will challenge with Go Power to complete the second division.

In the first division, Pete Haughton shares the early favorite role with the classy Keystone Gabriel, who is coupled with the Ohio-owned sensation, Golden Sovereign.

Keystone Gabriel is co-owned by Pete's dad, Billy, along with Max Hempt, Dr. Paul Soldner of Springfield, and the brothers, Dale and Floyd Miller of Archbold, Ohio. A buzzing bay son of Hickory Pride, Keystone Gabriel, was fourth to Nevel Diamond in The Thompsons, and owns a lifetime mark of 2:04 4-5.

Golden Sovereign, owned by Phil Drake of Columbus, and Kathryn Richardson of Painesville, is trained and driven by Dick Richardson Jr. This son of Floris shows three wins in five starts this year, including a dramatic come-from-behind win in 2:04 1-5 at Scioto last Friday night.

Rated a close second on the early line is the New York star, Star Shot with the veteran Bill Popfinger in the sulky, and the Howard Beissinger stable entry of Arrow Hill and Keystone Liberty.

Joe O'Brien liked what he saw in another classy son of B. F. Coaltown, and drove Slick Hill for the first time last week at Northfield Park. Owned by Gerald Gibson of Hudson, Ohio, Liberty Hill won in 2:05 4-5 at Northfield Park earlier, and finished a close third last week.

Tom Brinkerhoff has Tempted Yankee, young Rick Midden has the Curly Smart owned Penthouse, and Frank Todd Sr., will drive Darmiss. Don Corbett will drive Buckle Down, Marc Ferguson entered Arthur Freight, and Jack Betts has Miss Ron Town to complete the first division.

Mogan Wins Class; Set For Tourney

Gary Mogan finished first in the Olentangy Summer Wrestling Classic held at Olentangy High School June 14 and 15.

Mogan easily swept through the 178-pound weight class, winning six matches. He was penalized only 2½ bad marks.

The win gives Mogan the opportunity to participate in the Junior Olympic Freestyle Tournament to be held at DeSales High School July 6 and 7.

Wrestlers who finish in the top three in their weight class earn an expense-free trip to Iowa City, Iowa, to participate in the National Championships.

SEOGA Tourney Scheduled

The Southeastern Ohio Golf Assn. tournament will be held at Marietta Country Club this weekend.

Representing Pickaway Country Club for the team title are: Steve and Bruce Helwagen, Rick Macklin, Dick Wilcox, Dean MacFadden, Brent Bell, Larry Oiler, Larry McFadden, Fred Belles, Bud Hritz.

Lancaster Country Club is the defending champion. The Pickaway Country Club team was runnerup a year ago.

2 Tie For Low Net In PCC Golf Play

Bruce Helwagen carded low gross and Bill Thornton and Bill Ottinger tied for low net during the Tuesday Men's League at Pickaway Country Club.

Helwagen shot a 35 and Thornton and Ottinger both had net scores of 32. Team No. 2 won the second night of the second round with a score of 17½ points. Members of Team 2 are Dick Wilcox, Ken Williams, Jim Butler, Ben Brian, Carson Scheaffer, Dick Theis, Sid Saunders, Jim Stoneburner.

After two weeks, Team No. 1 leads with 33½ points, Team No. 6 has 32½ and Team No. 3 30 points.

In Memoriam

In memory of Jesse Brady,
just one year ago today my darling
God called and you went away.
Life is lonely without you darling,
But I know I will see you some day.
Sadly missed by his wife Lena.

1. Card of Thanks

Beatrice Hill

I wish to thank everyone and my family who sent beautiful cards, flowers, gifts, letters of encouragement during my stay at
Burger Hospital. Thanks to Dr. F. W.
Anderson, the entire nursing staff,
and the prompt service of the Mader ambulance service. To the many ministers and prayers by all were

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR THURSDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Some intrigue about. Don't become involved. Concentrate on your own objectives and you won't have time to get into dubious activities.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Excellent influences. You can give an exhilarating lift to a new project or brighten routine to the point where it actually becomes stimulating.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Do not dash headlong into day's activities no matter how much is expected of you or how much you wish to accomplish. There are "cloudy" areas to study well.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Some tension indicated. Avoid highly strung or neurotic persons, and keep out of situations which could needlessly involve you in others' problems.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Mixed influences. You may encounter some frustrating situations during the a.m., but the tide will turn in favor later in the day.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Curb an inclination to take on more than you can reasonably handle. You will only scatter energies and accomplish less in the long run.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Even if you're quite certain how you intend to handle a situation, it wouldn't hurt to get another's viewpoint. Some interesting new concepts could result.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): Generous influences now favor business and financial matters. A good day for planning for the future. Don't hope to gain by cutting corners, however.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Not a day for forcing issues or deliberately bringing up controversial subjects. Hold your peace, for the time being.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Some new trends in the making. Study carefully and be sure to check all propositions before accepting. Romance and travel favored.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): It will be well to handle all matters discreetly now, slowing down where a tendency to hurry exists, and not provoking needless argument.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Now's the time to make the first move toward the attainment of a special goal. You have plenty of stellar support to back you.

YOU BORN TODAY are numbered among the world's most unusual achievers. Adaptable, enthusiastic, generous and extremely versatile along creative lines, there is practically no area in which you cannot make your personality felt, thus considerably easing your path to success. At heart you are an individualist and prefer to carry out tasks, bright ideas and unique methods alone but, where teamwork is necessary, others can always count on your cooperation — and love you for it. Your talents are so many and your zest for new projects so constant that you are inclined to scatter energies, thus slowing down ultimate accomplishment. Try to stick to one enterprise before taking on another. Fields in which you could especially excel: writing, music, science, research, aviation and exploration.

Temple Sets Festival List

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Temple University Music Festival will begin June 28 with an all-Beethoven program by the Pittsburgh Symphony with soprano Phyllis Curtin.

Pianist Alfred Brendel will be part of an all-Brahms program and pianist Garrick Ohlsson also will play. The Moiseyev Dance Co. from Russia will appear.

Peter Nero, Ferrante and Teicher, Benny Goodman, the Preservation Hall Jazz Band and Ella Fitzgerald will return, the latter for a seventh consecutive season.

Actress Cicely Tyson will narrate Aaron Copland's "Lincoln Portrait." Yehudi Menuhin, Jack Benny, Henry Mancini, Dave Brubeck, Sarah Vaughan with the Buddy Rich Orchestra, the Smothers Brothers and Dionne Warwick also will be among many more appearing during the summer.

Too Many Platters

NEW YORK (AP) — The Platters, a group which sold more than 75 million records of such songs as "The Great Pretender," "My Prayer" and "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," is having trouble with groups saying they are the Platters. Buck Ram, the group's composer-arranger and manager, has a registered patent on the name The Platters. He has had injunctions served on other acts who are using the name, now that there is a wave of nostalgia for appearances by groups which were popular in former years.

More automobiles are assembled in Kansas City than in any American city except Detroit.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Musical groups that draw $50,000 or more for a concert work for scale on the TV rock shows — about $300. And they like it, says Don Kirshner.

Kirshner, who pioneered rock on late-night television with ABC's "In Concert" and his own syndicated "Rock Concert," explained, "Although they only get scale for a show, the inducement is that the television appearance might enhance a star's record sales by $50,000."

"It exposes him to a whole new audience. This is particularly true with new talent."

Kirshner said he believes even the biggest stars will continue to work for scale.

Rock is fairly well established on the tube, albeit mostly in the wee hours. Besides his two shows, there is NBC's "Midnight Special," which also goes into other areas; "Soul Train," which features only black stars; and the syndicated talk show for rock stars, "Speak Easy."

Kirshner, 39, is a leading entrepreneur in the music business. At 24, he founded his own music publishing and record company and later became president of Colgem Records. He managed the musical publishing works for the Beatles and, since their breakup, for John Lennon and Paul McCartney.

He created the musical group for "The Monkees," a TV show a few years back, and then did it again for "The Archies," an animated group on a Saturday morning cartoon show.

He is looking for a prime-time series in the vein of "The Monkees" and "The Partridge Family." But with the added realism of today's TV comedy.

"It would be a combination of music and comedy," he said. "The country is ready to laugh. If you can combine that with warm and appealing kids, I'm sure it will take off."

Sills Opens Cincy Opera

CINCINNATI (AP) — Opening the Cincinnati Summer Opera will be Beverly Sills and John Alexander in "Roberto Devereux," on June 26. This opera has never been presented by the company and this production, the gift of the Corbett Foundation to the New York City Opera in 1970, has not been seen outside New York and Los Angeles.

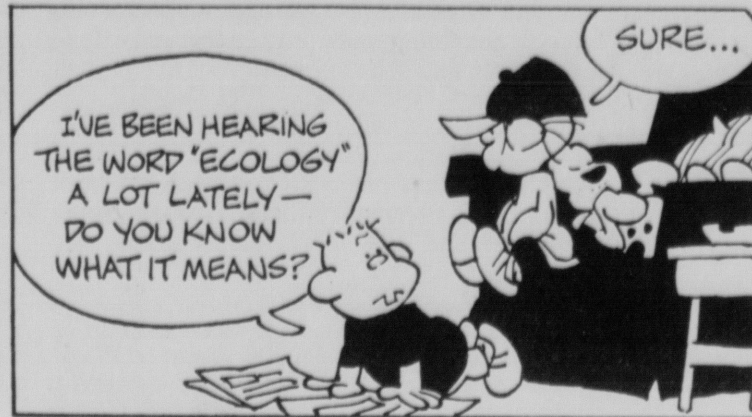

The opera will also be presented June 29 and July 5. Julius Rudel will conduct.

"La Perichole" will be sung in English July 3 and 6; "La Boheme," in English, July 10 and 13; "Manon Lescaut," in Italian, July 17 and 20; "Boris Godunov," in English, starring Norman Treigle, July 24 and 26 and Aug. 3, and "A Masked Ball," in Italian, starring Martina Arroyo, July 27 and 31.

Fish Resources Are Limited

WASHINGTON (AP) — Far from having a limitless resource in the sea, the world is nearing the limit of its fishery possibilities, says Dr. Robert M. To provide enough fish now and to insure conservation for the future, he asserts, there must be cooperation on the state, federal and international levels.

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: THERE IS NEW STRENGTH, REPOSE OF MIND, AND INSPIRATION IN FRESH APPAREL.—ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

(© 1974 King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR THURSDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Some intrigue about. Don't become involved. Concentrate on your own objectives and you won't have time to get into dubious activities.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Excellent influences. You can give an exhilarating lift to a new project or brighten routine to the point where it actually becomes stimulating.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Do not dash headlong into day's activities no matter how much is expected of you or how much you wish to accomplish. There are "cloudy" areas to study well.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Some tension indicated. Avoid highly strung or neurotic persons, and keep out of situations which could needlessly involve you in others' problems.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Mixed influences. You may encounter some frustrating situations during the a.m., but the tide will turn in favor later in the day.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Curb an inclination to take on more than you can reasonably handle. You will only scatter energies and accomplish less in the long run.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Even if you're quite certain how you intend to handle a situation, it wouldn't hurt to get another's viewpoint. Some interesting new concepts could result.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Generous influences now favor business and financial matters. A good day for planning for the future. Don't hope to gain by cutting corners, however.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Not a day for forcing issues or deliberately bringing up controversial subjects. Hold your peace, for the time being.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Some new trends in the making. Study carefully and be sure to check all propositions before accepting. Romance and travel favored.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): It will be well to handle all matters discreetly now, slowing down where a tendency to hurry exists, and not provoking needless argument.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Now's the time to make the first move toward the attainment of a special goal. You have plenty of stellar support to back you.

GTE Announces Canvass For Amanda Area

The yearly canvass of business telephone customers in the Amanda-Baltimore area is under way, General Telephone Co. of Ohio announced today.

William D. Anderson, Circleville customer service manager, said General Telephone Directory Co. representatives will call on businessmen to review and confirm listings for the 1974 phone directory being compiled.

This canvass lasts until Aug. 2. Closing date is Aug. 22, the deadline for residential customers to make changes in the new directory.

Businessmen are reminded that billing for yellow page advertising will be included with the monthly telephone statement.

"Other invoice-type solicitations for yellow page advertising should be carefully inspected," Anderson said. "Some businessmen have inadvertently paid for space in a national or international directory thinking it was for the local directory."

Listed in the book with Amanda and Baltimore are the communities of Bremen, Millersport and Pleasantville. The new directory is scheduled for delivery in November.

The girl, who was released Tuesday on $500 bond, admitted being in the get-away car and implicated four other people in the break-in.

Charged with possession of barbiturates here, she was released to her parents pending cooperation with Prince William County, Va., authorities in clearing up the burglary.

Deputy Brown received consent from Francis Thompson, who was accompanying Worthington, to search his truck, but found nothing.

Thompson was arrested for investigation, but told authorities he had no knowledge of the checks being stolen or forged and was later released.

Authorities recovered $145.64 of the money.
